Dedication

The Lehigh men in the service of their country, are typified by George Anthony LaSasso, Lehigh '50, 1st Lieutenant in the United States Marines, and holder of the Bronze Star with "V" cluster. While at Lehigh, he devoted much of his boundless energy to activities representing the University; while serving his country, he gave his all. It was with deep sorrow that Lehigh University learned of the death of George Anthony LaSasso on October 14, 1952.

With sincere gratitude and appreciation of his great sacrifice we dedicate to George Anthony LaSasso, and the many others he exemplifies, the 1953 Epitome.

53 In Review

At last we have reached that point in our lives toward which we have ever been looking. There is a certain magic in being at this stage of a complete metamorphosis, in which we turn from the years of training to the years of practice. Now recorded in experience are the events of college life in toto—the parties and dances, the work, and the fellowship, which added together will forever mark us as being college men. Though we realize that commencement is really the beginning of life and not the end, still it marks the closing of a comparatively carefree life that was both work and fun.

For the last time in our career at Lehigh we watched with amusement the influx of bewildered freshmen in September, which never failed to recall our seemingly remote experiences of Freshman Week. The frosh appeared to be as lively as ever and a few weeks found Cyanide and Arcadia issuing stern reprimands to the non-wearers of dinks, notwithstanding the smooth orientation program carried on by those organizations.

Chaplain Bean's resignation early in the Fall announced the loss of a real friend, who had helped many of us solve some perplexing problems while struggling toward graduation. Back again on the campus after a tour of duty with the U. S. Navy was another old acquaintance, Byron C. Hayes, this time acting as associate dean of students.

Lamberton Hall, sporting a new coat of paint, dinner music, and new cooking equipment, was in the news again when I. D. C. began sponsoring feature movies there over the weekends. Both Taylor and Price Hall showed startling improvement after being remodeled during the Summer, but this will never erase our lasting memory of them as they were in previous years. Plans for the building to house the world's largest vertical universal testing machine were announced by President Martin D. Whitaker. The seven story building, to be located south of Fritz lab, will also house five laboratories in addition to the testing machine.

Our senior year, after the fashion of all senior years, was overflowing with social events. Our first thought, of course, goes to the two House-parties, those two "tremendous smashes" which everyone enjoyed to the utmost, even though Uncle Sam dampened spirits by taxing the seniors' hard-earned money. After spending weeks conjuring and building displays portraying the Lafayette football team undergoing various misfortunes, how could we forget Lafayette Weekend? The Beta's won with their crossword puzzle which read "It's no puzzle, Lehigh spells defeat for Lafayette" and the football team, obeying the command, trampled our rivals 14-7. Less successful were the freshmen, who used huge quantities of kerosene to supplement their pep rally bonfire in the face of pouring rain.

An innovation in dances held at Lehigh was the series of Dink Hops, held in Grace Hall, and sponsored by the frosh cabinet principally for the dorm freshmen.

Campaigning, better known as "politicking," was more evident than ever on the campus, undoubtedly sparked by the national elections. Both Eisenhower and Stevenson factions were well represented, with the "Ike" forces being victorious in the campus election. This result resubstantiated the old maxim, "As Lehigh goes, so goes the nation." Prospective Arcadians campaigned with equal vigor, not at all hampered by the new ruling that posters be tied, not tacked, to our South Mountain timber.

One of Arcadia's most popular achievements was the installation of a television set in Drown Hall. The top floor now acquires new life whenever a McCarthy investigation or baseball game appears on the screen.

Lehigh's administrative backfield called several new plays this year. One was the emulative demerit system which went into action for the first time in the Fall of 1952, whereby the student knew exactly the depth of the hot water he was in. Because of the introduction of a super-system of registration, all upperclassmen could register in one day, and the familiar "form-filling-out" type of writer's cramp was reduced to a minimum. "Valentine Day" was a Lehigh function that was not changed however, for on the fated day of the first semester, one hundred thirty-three of the pink greetings were handed out.

Lehigh welcomed its thirtieth national fraternity when Rho Eta, the local fraternity, became a chapter of Delta Chi and moved into the Palmer residence on campus.

Throughout the year we enjoyed the great performances given by Mustard and Cheese. Beginning with "Caesar and Cleopatra," the thespians did a good job on all their selections, which also included "Murder In The Cathedral," and "The Rivals." The last mentioned play was integrated into the festivities of Greek weekend, which, along with the pledge banquet, the program at the Maennerchor, and the Monte Carlo dance, provided one of the outstanding weekends of the year.

The Student Concert-Lecture series as usual brought a fine group of performers to Lehigh University. Our old friend Dr. Polgar was one of the most talked-about; for a few days after his act it seemed that everyone had become an amateur hypnotist, and good subjects were at a premium.

Returning alumni would scarcely recognize the Brown and White. Throwing caution to the winds, the staff changed printers and came forth with an entirely new appearance, producing a circulation jump of undetermined thousands.

The Placement Bureau has been doing an excellent job of finding both full time and summer employment for Lehigh men, and reported a substantial increase in the number of companies desiring to interview at Lehigh. The number of seniors going into industry has been decreased, however, by the uncertain situation of world affairs, which has induced many men to join the ROTC or AFROTC programs, swelling them to capacity.

These were some of the events that "made the headlines" during our last year at Lehigh. We realize, however, that they constitute only a lattice-work which is filled with the really memorable personal experiences which occurred at Lehigh. It is our hope that when the incidents mentioned here are reviewed in the future, they may serve to reconstruct our college days.

Seniors

Class of 1953

The Class of 1953 was like a new born babe when it arrived at South Mountain in September, 1949. It was bewildered, eager, and had much to learn. However, by the end of Freshmen Week the group was adjusting to the transition of being molded into men of Lehigh.

The freshmen year had many rewards. Fifty-three strong-armed Frosh earned the class the right to abandon their dinks by out-tugging the yearlings of Lafayette. The belles of nearby colleges were soon aware of our presence as we plunged into the social whirls of college life. The endless hours of acquiring knowledge also left its impression on us.

As sophomores we were in the childhood of our college careers. With this growth we shouldered more responsibilities. We searched for new fields to apply our energies and founded them in the various sports, clubs, and activities of the University. The Snowball was the highlight of our social season.

The restlessness of teens was apparent as we returned for our junior year. With endless energy we sponsored movies, held smokers, and organized a picnic. In addition our class for first time in recent years staged the spring houseparty. The financial reward compensated us well for our initiative.

Finally, we reached our collegiate maturity. As adults we assumed the corresponding responsibilities. A Senior Cabinet and a Senior Committee were chosen to carry out many of these responsibilities. We accepted jobs with the nation's top companies fully realizing that we would succeed—the Lehigh way. To express our gratitude we purchased a part of Lehigh's future by adopting the Class Gift Insurance Plan.

In the social column Vaughn Monroe provided the soft music for our Fall houseparty. Who can forget the tax issue that resulted? There was great frolicing and fun making by all who attended the Senior picnic. When with revelry we look back on days at Lehigh, the splendor of graduation weekend will occupy a foremost position. The fashionable dinner, the formal dance, and, of course, the graduation ceremonies all had an integral part in the beauty of the occasion.

No recapitulation of our campus days would be complete without mentioning Mr. John Haight. During our last two years, Mr. Haight guided our policies with sagacity and understanding. No task was too great in his eyes which partly accounts for many of the goals we achieved. A great man did a great job!!

As the Class of 1953 leaves these sacred halls of ivy, may it be with full understanding of what we are—men of Lehigh.

Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national honorary pre-medical society, was founded at the University of Alabama in 1926, and the present membership numbers over ten thousand in some sixty-one chapters. The Pennsylvania Alpha chapter at Lehigh is the oldest of five in the commonwealth.

Foremost of the aims of this society is the encouragement of excellence in pre-medical scholarship, others being to recognize interest, personality, character, and the ability to cooperate with others.

Working in close contact with the Robert W. Hall Pre-Medical Society, Alpha Epsilon Delta makes every effort to render service to the pre-medical student. Regular monthly meetings include the presentation of papers by the members, films, and at least once a year, a discussion of the pre-medical education and medical school requirements. Monthly dinner meetings with guest speakers invited from among local physicians have been well received by the membership.

In the Spring of 1952, a small group of Industrial Engineering students began an attempt to found a Lehigh Chapter of Alpha Pi Mu, the relatively new national honor society for Industrial Engineers. Their attempt met with success, and in May the chapter was officially installed by a delegation of national officers from Georgia Tech.

Although a young organization, Alpha Pi Mu has already gained chapters in many American colleges featuring a curriculum in Industrial Engineering. It was because of this that the Lehigh students turned in the direction that they did, feeling that the local chapter would well be able to grow in stature along with the parent society, which has already been recognized by the profession as its leading honorary.

Because it is kept busy with the problems of organization and of enlarging its enrollment, the Lehigh Chapter has not been able to pursue any activities aimed to benefit the University. It is hoped that in the near future such activities will result, however, and that Alpha Pi Mu will be able to benefit both the I.E. Department and Lehigh itself. The membership is and will continue to remain small, inasmuch as it is confined to junior and senior industrial engineers who stand above the required percentage of their class. This small group should prove to be an advantage, however, for its size will result in increased unity of purpose and cooperation towards achieving the aims and goal of the society—to recognize and benefit students of industrial engineering everywhere.

Since its origin at the University of Cincinnati in 1948 as an honorary society for members of Advanced Air Force ROTC, the Arnold Air Society has grown into a national organization numbering approximately 190 chapters. This labels the society as the largest and fastest growing of all campus organizations in the nation. Lehigh's Cheli Squadron, organized in 1951, is proud to be a part of the Arnold Air Society.

One purpose of the Cheli Squadron's activities is to further the Air Force ROTC program at Lehigh University by offering services that are not a regular part of the Cadet curriculum. An important contribution to AFROTC life at Lehigh is the squadron's inauguration of "Cheli Sez", a monthly publication edited by Cadet George Schivley. The squadron is again sponsoring the Air Force Drill Team under the leadership of Cadet William Roxby. Cadet Kenneth Lundie has conducted a leadership class in the command voice for all cadets. This year Arnold Air Society is a co-sponsor of the annual Military Ball.

Another purpose of the squadron's activities is to give its members a better understanding of the Air Force in which they are about to serve. A feature of each initiation ceremony is an address by an experienced person on some aspect of Air Force life and work. Documentary films are frequently shown at regular bi-monthly meetings. Projects planned for this spring include inspection trips by the entire squadron to an Air Traffic Control Center and to the United States Military Academy.

Based on the objective of increasing the efficiency of the civil engineering profession as an instrument of social betterment, Chi Epsilon was organized to recognize those characteristics of the individual engineer necessary to the successful pursuit of an engineering career and to aid in the development of these characteristics in the undergraduate engineer. Engineering is constantly assuming an ever increasing responsibility calling for a high order of proficiency from those who administer and plan engineering works.

This responsibility can be adequately discharged only by a professional group possessed of good basic technical ability and of high moral character, capable of satisfactory social relationships with a variety of types and with organizations, and with the desire and vision to realize the extent of the social changes brought about by the projects under its control. To contribute to the improvement of the engineering profession, Chi Epsilon fosters the development and exercise of the fundamentally sound traits of scholarship, character, practicality and sociability among its members. These traits will enable the engineer to work towards a higher standard of service offered to humanity by the profession.

Cyanide, the junior class leadership honor society, has as its principal purpose the organization and guidance of authorized freshman activities. Composed of twenty members and directed by Dr. Lawrence Whitcomb, faculty advisor, plus a faculty circle of three members, the society meets at least once a month to iron out the difficulties and problems of the first year men at Lehigh, as well as to plan and organize freshman activities.

One of the most successful activities which Cyanide has organized is the freshman class cabinet. This was first organized in the Fall of 1951. Under the cabinet system, a new class chooses class representatives within six weeks after the start of the school year. These representatives, along with Cyanide members, comprise a cabinet through which the freshmen can air their problems and propose activities.

Another Cyanide activity was organizing the traditional Tug-of-War between the frosh of Lehigh and Lafayette. There was very little work involved for the Brown and White frosh this year. They won easily by forfeit. In addition to this, Cyanide joined other campus organizations in staging the Lafayette pep rally, which included freshman skits, a gigantic bon-fire, and the traditional pajama parade across the newly renovated penny bridge.

Cyanide was never at a loss for work during the year. For entering students there was a Freshman Orientation Week and an information booth maintained by the group. For prospective students Cyanide members have seen service as guides on campus tours.

Delta Omicron Theta, the honorary debating society, has enjoyed many fine seasons of debating on and off Lehigh's campus. It has competed with colleges such as Penn State, Princeton, Army, University of Pennsylvania, University of Vermont, Temple, and many others through its participation in dual and packet debates and tournaments.

Lehigh's debate program began with the varsity members and the novices engaging in intense search of information on the national topic, "RESOLVED: that the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Law".

The novices, men without previous inter-collegiate debating experience, gained a great deal of confidence from their participation in the Temple Novice Tournament in November. Dual debates were very frequent, such as those between Lehigh and Lafayette, Bucknell and Wagner College, all held in December.

Again this year Lehigh played host to the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges Tournament. This was the second time in as many years that Lehigh arranged the tournament, in which over forty colleges from the entire state participated.

Spring brought the customary number of tournaments, in addition to the numerous dual and packet debates. Lehigh attended the Benjamin Franklin tournament and the Penn State Debater's Convention, as well as the Brooklyn College Tournament and the Eastern Forensic Tournament.

Certainly there are many values in being able to speak before other people, and DOT, by its training of students in reasoned discourse through practice speaking and reflective thinking, does much to mold its members into the type of men industry and business are seeking.

Eta Kappa Nu

The Eta Kappa Nu Association was founded in 1904 at the University of Illinois by Maurice L. Carr and nine fellow students. The Chi Chapter at Lehigh University was formed under the national organization in 1926. The purposes of the Association are to help its members to become better men in their field and better citizens of their country. Also, Eta Kappa Nu seeks to improve the standards of the profession and encourage scholarship among the electrical engineering students.

Initiates are selected among the electrical engineering students for their high scholastic records and outstanding personalities. During the initiating period, the initiates at Lehigh wear yellow coolie hats to identify themselves. They are also required to complete a project which is selected as being useful to the department.

This year the local chapter sponsored a talk on the selection of a specific field of work. This speech was intended to assist all electrical engineers at Lehigh University in their selection of jobs. The chapter provides each year a handbook as a prize to the freshman in electrical engineering who attains the highest scholastic average. A small gift, usually a subscription to an engineering journal, is given to the Electrical Engineering Department each year.

A picnic is co-sponsored annually by A.J.E.E., I.R.E., and Eta Kappa Nu to provide social activity and relaxation for the students and faculty members.

During the current year Lambda Mu Sigma, the honorary marketing fraternity, has undergone some very radical changes. The second meeting of the Fall semester brought about a revision of the constitution which expanded the membership and streamlined the operations of the group.

Although the governing rules of the organization have changed, its objectives have not. The purpose of the fraternity is still to make a definite contribution to the student body through furthering practical knowledge of marketing practices. Lambda Mu Sigma has done this by promoting a spirit of closer friendship between the faculty and the student body and by furthering closer cooperation between the student and private enterprise.

Semi-annually the new members of Lambda Mu Sigma are chosen. The men are selected from students majoring in the business curriculum who have a high scholastic average and a definite interest in extra curricular activities. These men have demonstrated through study and practice an intensive interest in the field of marketing.

Progressive plans are being made which will enable the group to become an affiliate of the American Marketing Association. The AMA is the foremost association of its type and has as its members some of the most prominent men in the field of marketing. Through this proposed affiliation Lambda Mu Sigma would be able to establish a marketing library which would contain the latest information on the outstanding research and developments in the field of marketing.

Field trips and speeches by local business men are also planned to round out the activities of Lambda Mu Sigma for the '52-'53 school year.

The Newtonian Society, one of the few honorary societies on the freshman level, was founded at Lehigh in 1927 by two members of the Mathematics Department. At the time, its membership was limited to mathematics majors who had attained a 3.5 average or better in freshman math.

Like many clubs, the Newtonian Society became inactive during the war years, but in the fall of 1946 the society was reformed. At that time, the constitution was revised to include business and engineering freshmen among those eligible for membership.

The purposes of the society are to promote interest in mathematics among members of the freshman class, to further friendship among students and faculty members, and to provide opportunity for intellectual activity outside of the classroom.

At each monthly meeting a guest speaker is invited to speak informally on a topic of his choice. The speaker is usually a faculty member, but occasionally a student member of the society assumes the role. In the past year, speakers included Dr. Hailperin who talked about "What's Wrong with the Proof?", and Wilson Stout, who spoke on "Radioactive Growth and Decay."

A desire to bring into one body, for the general good of the institution, all leaders in various forms of college activities is the motive upon which Omicron Delta Kappa was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University. The Lehigh Xi Circle is composed of men who have qualified for membership by their character, leadership and service in campus life, scholarship, fellowship and consecration to democratic ideals. Members are elected on the five basic phases of campus life: scholarship, social and religious affairs, athletics, publications and speech, and music and dramatic arts. This recognition of all-round leadership in college life enables outstanding students and faculty members to meet on a basis of mutual interest, understanding and helpfulness.

At Lehigh, regular meetings are held each month at various faculty member's homes. Such topics as participation in extra-curricular activities and Lehigh school spirit are discussed with the hope that the conclusions of a few will lead to the betterment of many. One result has been a committee working in conjunction with the Student's Activities Committee to examine the accomplishments of the various organizations on campus. Another accomplishment this year was the sponsoring of the All-University Dinner in honor of Chaplain Bean, who left Lehigh after continued devotion to the University and its men.

Company F, Fifth Regiment of Pershing Rifles, honorary national military society, has this year reached a peak in activity and membership. Under the able leadership of its officers and Captain Paul B. Walters, faculty advisor, the number of active men in the organization has increased to one hundred fourteen. This shows quite a growth, when compared to its fifteen men of the original unit, started at Lehigh on April 26, 1947.

The organization was originally founded at the University of Nebraska in 1893. Up to 1895 it was known as Varsity Rifles. At that time its name was changed in honor of Lt. Pershing, its first faculty advisor, whom everyone recognizes as General Pershing of later years.

Besides its weekly Wednesday afternoon drill period and business meeting, the Company has a Crack Drill Team that has put itself in excellent shape with many extra hours of practice. This team turned in an excellent performance at Bethlehem's Armistice Day Ceremony this year. It will enter both the Regimental and National Drill Meet this spring semester. During the last few years, the team has performed its marching routine during the intermission of Lehigh's annual Military Ball.

At all of Lehigh's home football games the Company has served as ushers. This is the fourth year that the Riflemen have attended in this capacity.

Along with its other activities, Pershing Rifles is also a social organization. As in previous years, a Spring and Fall banquet was held. Also this year the members held a dance and some "stag" parties.

Phi Alpha Theta, the national honorary history fraternity, has been established on the Lehigh campus since 1940, but up to 1952-53 it was strictly of honorary status. Founded originally to encourage the study of history, the Alpha Alpha chapter at Lehigh has made great strides in the last year towards returning to a highly active status on campus. Under the able leadership of its officers the Alpha Alpha chapter has sponsored eminent speakers at its meetings, held historical tours in the Lehigh Valley area and encouraged friendly relations between members of the fraternity and the faculty.

Qualifications for undergraduate membership at Lehigh include: junior or senior standing, good evidence of interest in the study of history and government, at least a 3.5 average in at least twelve hours of history and government, and at least a 3.0 average in all other work. Graduate students and faculty may become members of Phi Alpha. The organization does not limit its membership to only undergraduate students, as both graduate students and members of the faculty are invited to join.

Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest of all Greek letter fraternities, was founded at William and Mary College, in Williamsburg, Va., in 1776. It was originally a social and literary society, but comparatively early in its history it developed into an honorary fraternity which gives recognition to undergraduate students who have excelled in studies designed principally to lead to a knowledge, understanding and appreciation of the world in which we live.

During the first century of its existence, the growth of the society was slow. By 1881 there were twenty active chapters. The individual chapters were located in the northeastern section of the United States and were largely autonomous. In 1883 the national organization, the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, was established with the purpose of effecting a closer union between the chapters and of assuring high and uniform standards in the chartering of new chapters and in the election of members. Today there are 151 chapters, spread throughout the whole country.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa has long been recognized as one of the outstanding scholastic honors which a student may receive. The influence of the fraternity has done much to raise the standards of American collegiate education.

The Beta Chapter of Pennsylvania was installed at Lehigh in April, 1887, through the influence of several members of the faculty who themselves belonged to the Society and felt the need for its influence on the Lehigh campus. Membership is offered each year to outstanding seniors who have shown unusual excellence in liberal studies. The task of selecting new members falls upon a chapter council of faculty members. Besides selecting men from the Arts and Business Colleges and the curricula in chemistry and physics, the council may, in any one academic year, offer membership to not more than four seniors from the technical curricula.

In addition to the seniors who were initiated in May, 1952, and whose names were listed in the 1952 Epitome, the following were initiated on June 15, 1952:

Michael R. Imbriani

Arthur I. Larky

Among the numerous honorary fraternities at Lehigh University, Phi Eta Sigma may be considered the first—the first, that is, to be of concern to the entering student. For Phi Eta Sigma recognizes outstanding scholarship in the freshman class. To gain admittance, a freshman must attain a 3.50 average in his first semester or a 3.50 cumulative average for his freshman year. In either case he must rank in at least the upper 20 per cent of his class.

Phi Eta Sigma is a national organization comprised of 81 chapters, four of which are located in Pennsylvania. It has as its goal the recognition and encouragement of scholarship among freshmen. As a national group it publishes a pamphlet on how to study and holds a national convention in alternate years. The Lehigh chapter was represented at this year's convention, which was held on the campus of Purdue University during the month of October.

The Lehigh chapter, in order to further its aims and serve the University, has three important activities. The members distribute to incoming freshmen copies of the pamphlet "Hints on How to Study", carry out the clerical work in connection with the faculty evaluation program sponsored by Arcadia, and award a cup and a plaque each year to the dormitory section whose freshmen have achieved the highest scholastic average. The cup for this purpose, which remains in the University Library, was donated by Dr. Harold V. Anderson, advisor to the organization since its founding in 1930.

Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalism fraternity, was founded at Syracuse University in 1909. Eleven years later a chapter was organized at Lehigh, and today the fraternity is active in colleges and universities throughout the country.

The purpose of Pi Delta Epsilon is to provide a means of achieving coordination and harmonious relationship among the leaders in campus publications. These men, through membership in Pi Delt, are able to meet and discuss problems confronting them in their work, as well as methods for improving school publications.

At the first meeting of Pi Delta Epsilon this year, twenty men in Lehigh journalism were initiated into the society. Plans for this year include the sponsoring of the Lehigh Blotter for the third consecutive year and the formulation of a new humor magazine.

If Pi Delt is able to overcome the financial objections to a new humor magazine, Lehigh will hear a lot more about the "Pi Eyed" in the future.

Pi Mu Epsilon is a non-secret organization whose purpose is the promotion of mathematical scholarship among the students in academic institutions of university grade. At Lehigh University, the Pennsylvania Gamma chapter of the fraternity has been quite active for the past year, having been reactivated in the spring of 1952 by a group of interested members of the class of 1953.

Election to membership is contingent first upon the attainment of a good record in mathematics (3.75 in Math. 11-14, 3.50 if advanced courses have been taken), and second upon the indication of a genuine interest in the subject. The latter is usually accomplished by presentation of a paper or talk on a mathematical subject.

This year the chapter initiated the weekly mathematical problem in the Brown and White, in conjunction with the Newtonian Society. At the monthly meetings, which are open to the public, speakers from other departments, universities and industry have presented talks on topics closely related to mathematics. Included in the present plan is an inter-college mathematics contest. In these things the Chapter hopes to have realized, on the Lehigh University campus, the purpose of the Fraternity.

A statement about the organization would be hardly complete without a word of gratitude extended to Professors Goldberg and Raynor, and to Professor Robert R. Stoll, who left the department in 1952. These faculty members of the fraternity were always at hand to help and cooperate in getting the Chapter reorganized.

The Lehigh Theta Chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, the ninth chapter to be founded since the society began in 1915, was formally instituted in 1927.

The purpose of Pi Tau Sigma is to foster the high ideals of the engineering profession, to stimulate interest and coordinate departmental activities, to promote the mutual professional welfare of its members and to develop in students of mechanical engineering the attributes necessary for effective leadership in assuming the responsibilities of citizens in a democracy. Advanced students in mechanical engineering who show real interest and marked ability in their field of study, leadership qualities and outstanding personality are selected for membership in Pi Tau Sigma.

Activities of the society include monthly business meetings, banquets in Spring and Fall honoring the newly elected members of the organization, and the awarding of a "Mechanical Engineer's Handbook" to the highest ranking freshman in mechanical engineering.

The Pi Tau Sigma Lounge in Packard Laboratory is furnished and maintained by the Lehigh Theta Chapter. This lounge is open to all students for relaxation and study during the day and is available to all organizations for meetings and smokers during the evening.

Pi Tau Sigma also sponsors a Freshman Orientation Program for new students in the mechanical and industrial engineering curricula and works closely with the Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in all of its activities.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade, an honorary military society for the Advanced ROTC, was founded nationally in 1905 and came to the Lehigh campus in 1922. Its ten regiments throughout the country are made up of a total of 104 companies. As an all-service organization, which recognizes that harmonious relationships with all departments are essential, the Lehigh Company "H" 3rd Regiment is composed of students from both the Air and Army Branches of ROTC.

The main social function is the annual Military Ball, held in Grace Hall. This year, in order to be more fully representative of the military societies here at Lehigh, Arnold Air Society and Pershing Rifles were invited to be co-sponsors of the dance. Each Memorial Sunday the ushers and a color guard are provided for the services held in Packer Chapel. At the bi-monthly meetings the business of the society is transacted and a speaker or an educational film is usually part of the program.

In recognition of the validness of the Preamble to its Constitution, Scabbard and Blade awards a trophy to the student who has developed the qualities of a good and efficient officer and thus has helped to preserve them.

In early February 1950, two senior civil engineering students also enrolled in advanced ROTC started working toward the goal of forming at Lehigh a chapter of the Society of American Military Engineers. After a few weeks of correspondence with the National Headquarters, the first organizational meeting elected Ralph L. Kraemer, temporary president, and F. Allan Mink, temporary secretary-treasurer, both of the Class of 1951.

Senior Regional Representative of the Society of American Military Engineers, Colonel Luessig presented the Lehigh Chapter with its charter on October 26, 1950.

Since its beginnings here at Lehigh, the chapter has carried on an interesting and varied program to secure the participation of the members toward the main objectives of the society to promote and foster the defense of our country.

Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 by Professor E. H. Williams. Professor Williams believed that there was a great need for an honorary society which would recognize worthy men in the technical branches of education. He therefore established the Pennsylvania Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi with the help of several students. The need for such an organization soon became apparent in other technical colleges. As a result the organization has grown to include 93 chapters in the leading technical colleges of the nation.

At present the local chapter consists of 21 undergraduate members. All men in the upper eighth of the junior class and the upper fifth of the senior class are eligible for election. After scholastic requirements have been fulfilled, election to membership is based on integrity, breadth of interest, adaptability and leadership.

At Lehigh, Tau Beta Pi sponsors annually a slide rule instruction course for engineering freshmen. In the past few years a tutoring system covering freshmen engineering courses has been developed and administered by the members. Each year Tau Beta Pi awards a prize to the highest ranking freshman engineering student.

Activities

Arcadia

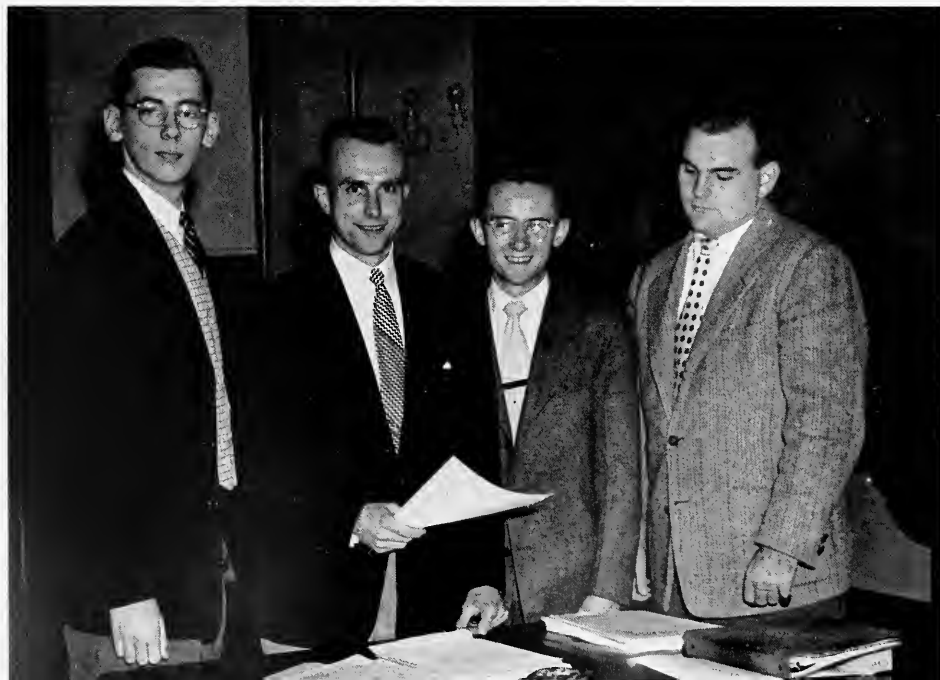

Arcadia, the student government of Lehigh University, is composed of fifteen men elected from the student body by the Hare System of Proportional Representation, better known as preferential balloting. The fifteen men carry on two major functions—administrative and representative.

Arcadia is representative in that it provides a medium for gathering and formulating student opinion. Each Arcadian is elected by men who feel that he can best serve their interests and needs.

The administrative functions are concerned with carrying out the activities of standing committees. Arcadia insures the expression of student opinion in four areas of University policy by being represented in the following faculty committees: Discipline, Student Activities, Student Club Finance and the Board of Publications.

Arcadia is an evolving organization: each Arcadia takes steps which will benefit the student body. It represents student opinion on its standing committees other than those of the student-faculty type. The Parking Committee offered a proposal concerning the dormitory parking problem; the Campus Committee sought and received extra police protection over House-party week-ends; the Drown Hall House Committee was concerned with redecorating Drown Hall and installing a television set in the student lounge; the National Student's Association Committee reactivated the purchase card system; the recently established Lambertson Hall Committee made great progress in improving the conditions in the University's dining hall. In addition to these added benefits, this year's Arcadia successfully completed its regular duties—faculty appraisal, campus chest, freshman orientation, Lafayette Pep rally, and many others.

Regardless of all the loyal effort put forth by each member of Arcadia, and regardless of the achievements the student government has and will attain, there are two factors without which it cannot be successful—student interest and cooperation. Arcadia meetings are open to all the members of the student body, and any undergraduate who has formally declared his intentions one week ahead of time must be heard at a meeting. Only with the aid of genuine interest and with the display of whole-hearted cooperation of the students can Arcadia really attain its goal, that of being truly representative.

Following the election, plans were made for the formation of the cabinet. Last year we had an executive cabinet of ten men and an associate cabinet of fifty men. This year the executive cabinet was increased to twenty-five men and the associate cabinet was decreased to twenty-five. The associate cabinet is on hand to serve on various committees. Because of the good job done last year on the Snowball, practically all the members of last year's cabinet were reappointed.

Houseparty dance was the big item on the agenda. This was the second year that the junior class had run the dance. Early in the Fall the committees were established and the budget was passed. Total cooperation was evident on the part of all committees. In addition to the dance, the juniors held their annual class picnic in Spring.

The class sponsored a new tradition on the Lehigh campus. Uniform class blazers designed by the class cabinet were sported by a number of the men of '54. It is expected that in years to come the majority of Lehigh men will wear the blazers.

The Juniors can boast of the athletes that represent the class on the various varsity teams, which turned in good records over the year. The Juniors showed leadership also in all extra-curricular activities about the campus. Cyanide, the junior honorary, worked hard to enforce the freshman regulations which have been lax for a number of years.

Next year we will take over, following the Class of '53. Problems will arise and a great deal of work will have to be done. We are looking forward to a good year, our last one, and we hope to be able to add greatly to the betterment of Lehigh University.

Fall semester 1952, brought autumnal leaves to the campus and—courtesy of the Class of 1955—the “Dink Hop” to the freshmen. The “Dink Hop” was a highly successful dance sponsored by the “sophs” to acquaint the “frosh” with the young ladies from Moravian, Cedar Crest, and St. Luke’s.

Class of 1955

From Thanksgiving to December 13th, the Class Cabinet was busy making ready for the Snowball. Good publicity and effective ticket plugging, along with the musical attractions of Matt Gillespie, were responsible for packing the upper floor of Grace Hall with more than four hundred couples. Decorations in blue and white, including the twelve foot high Snowman, created a festive atmosphere. The evening was highlighted by the rhythm of the "Theta Delt Dixielanders" and the presentation of a prize to the winner of the "What Is It?" contest. Needless to say, the class treasury was given a substantial boost.

After a thorough discussion, the Cabinet decided that it could function most efficiently as the governing body of the class with a constitution; accordingly, a committee was appointed to draft one. Their draft was subsequently adopted. One of the principal points of the Constitution was the description of the powers and duties of each of the officers, and of the Cabinet.

As a public service project, the class acted as co-sponsor of the 1953 Blood Drive here on campus.

Thanks to an active interest by the faculty advisors, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Lettieri, and the leadership of the officers, the Class of 1955 maintained its reputation as one of the most active groups at Lehigh.

As freshmen continue to play an increasingly important part in university affairs, the recognition given them also increases.

The first taste of university life for the men of '56 was afforded by the Freshman Orientation Program. This new function, under upper classman supervision, provided group discussion an hour a week for the first three weeks of school to cover all possible problems and questions that needed answering.

The Freshman Cabinet, presided over by a specially appointed executive committee of two members of Cyanide, the junior honorary society in charge of freshman affairs, is still in its infancy. However, it is rapidly assuming its own voice on campus, it being the only group to which a number of freshmen may belong to aid in fostering personal and class aspirations. One man from each living group is elected by his fellow classmen as their section leader, six weeks after the semester's beginning. The purposes of the organization are to keep the cabinet members abreast of current affairs and to establish and maintain potential school leaders.

An innovation this year was the "Dink Hop", the first such dance ever held solely for an incoming university class as a whole. Its success speaks well for the class' future, as well as for the continuance of an annual freshman dance. Another project being investigated and attempted is the possible and needed extension of library study hours. The Cabinet has already done excellent work in handling, in conjunction with Cyanide, some of the Lafayette week-end projects, such as the pre-game skits and bonfire.

The "Voice of Lehigh" found a place in the adult world of broadcasting when it celebrated its fourth anniversary of scheduled programs in October, 1952. The long story of expansion has almost come to a conclusion, with facilities almost equalling those of any commercial station in the Lehigh Valley.

This year has seen the much desired newsroom become a reality with the installation of two teletype news machines in the recently completed studio "C". They serve as the source of limitless material that keeps the listeners well informed and provides valuable training for the news staff. One of the biggest programs of the year was the coverage of the presidential election, made possible by the wire services of the New York Times and the United Press.

The equipment list has seen a few additions in 1952-'53. The second tape recorder was purchased, several new amplifiers built, and new office fixtures made the operation of the business department more efficient.

Commercially the interest shown by national sponsors in college radio predicts financial success for WLRN in the near future. This will mean that WLRN will be even better able to serve the Lehigh students.

Recognition for the improvement shown by WLRN came this year in the form of a second prize won by the music show contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System. Future improvement has been assured by the fact that Professor McFadden this year became the station's faculty advisor.

The Brown and White began the school year with a "teeth-rattling shakeup" of the business staff, a new, more modern flag, and a new column, Inside Straight. Immediate improvement of the business staff was evident in a more satisfactory accounting system, dependable and extended circulation service, and an impressive requisition system for purchases. Straight added spice to the editorial page: the new flag brought mixed comments at first, but it seemed to win acceptance.

Not the least of the innovations was a renovation of our Brown Hall quarters that included fluorescent lights, a tile floor, new desks and typewriters.

Handicapped by a shortage of manpower, disappointing photographic work, and fantastic printer's errors, the Brown and White struggled on until, on December 10, 1952, the William F. Schlechter Printing Company contracted to print the paper for the rest of the school year. At the same time, B&W substituted for its extra, extra bold headline type of the past few semesters a more modest, modern, and clearer type.

Features from past semesters were retained. Mountainviews was put on a more exalted level as a regular feature on the editorial page. The Bibler and Herblock cartoons provided vivid and humorous caricatures of student and political life respectively. Personals and Comments and Sports Angles were continued, and a popular Math Puzzle was instituted.

The Fall Houseparty edition cast several student dignitaries in undignified, not to mention corrupt, political roles—all in fun, of course. The issue after the Lafayette game displayed proudly a shot of Tom Gunn catching the pass that won the game for us. Another time we caught Victor Borge on all fours leering into our camera during an SCL program.

Alfred Packer, "America's only proved maneater," and reputed nephew of Asa, was exposed. John Carradine gave us a revealing if inconclusive interview. Chong Oon discussed America and his Malayan homeland for us.

The editorial and letters columns boiled with controversy. Student dress, fraternity discriminatory clauses, MCW's dousing of our freshmen, and the music department were some of the issues. The number and interest of the letters received were a marked improvement over other semesters.

After considerable discussion, B&W decided against picking a candidate for president, and confined itself to reporting student participation in the campaign, of which there was much.

There were problems, but the paper managed to go to press twice a week, containing information and comment about students, for students.

The production of the 1953 Epitome actually began during the late Spring of 1952, at which time many interviews were arranged with representatives of the firms who do the actual work directly associated with publishing the yearbook. At the same time, the nucleus of the staffs, both editorial and business, is undergoing expansion in preparation for the return to the campus in the Fall.

Schedules are proposed for all the work that is expected of the staff, and interdependent deadlines are arranged to urge in fairly strong terms that the work be accomplished in time, in hopes of publication before graduation.

Concurrently, this is what must be accomplished. All seniors must be photographed, and their Lehigh activities recorded. Pictures must be taken of the faculty and administration, of honorary societies and activities, of sports teams including action shots throughout the year, of fraternities and dormitories, special photos of the campus, and other timely pictures prepared. Written information required includes identification of all photographs, write-ups for honoraries, activities, and sports, together with listings of officers and faculty advisors for all of the foregoing plus the names of all the students in each living group. The whole conglomeration of information is then edited, assembled in order, made up into pages, and then after much checking, the book is finally printed and bound. In short, the task seems to be insurmountable. When it is completed, it never seems quite so bad as had been expected.

There are indeed many worries, but the compensation that lies in the knowledge of producing something worthwhile, something which will strike up memories from the time it is first read to the last, is more than can be assayed.

We of the Business Staff of the EPITOME have furnished the Editorial Staff with the funds necessary to bring to you the best yearbook possible.

We are proud of the fact that this year more copies of the EPITOME have been sold than in any other year of the book's existence. The achievement has been made by greater efficiency in canvassing the living groups and better advertising.

The Business Staff also added a new section to its organization, called the Photography Staff. This newly established group gave you the opportunity to purchase extra prints of the organizations and the living group of which you were a member.

Simply enough, we could not have done a complete job without your assistance: for nearly everyone contributes to the EPITOME in one way or another. We, of the Business Staff thank you for your cooperation, and we hope that your investment in the 1953 EPITOME will prove to be of ever increasing value as the years go by.

The Lehigh University Brown and White Marching Band opened its 1952-53 season by attending the second annual Music Camp held at Downingtown, Pennsylvania. This camp, which was open during the four days of Fall registration, offered an excellent opportunity for both freshmen and upperclassmen to combine play with practice.

Mr. William Schempf, our regular director and faculty advisor, was given a leave of absence to study music at the University of Vienna during the 1952-53 school year. Mr. Robert A. Boudreau was appointed to fill this vacancy.

With the opening of the Fall semester came the football season. The marching band had the privilege of going with the team to Buffalo, Bucknell, and Lafayette, the Buffalo trip being an overnight stay. Pre-game and halftime routines were presented at all the home football games. Highlighting our halftime performances was the "Salute to Freedom" show, complete with fireworks and doves, presented at the Carnegie Tech game.

Following the football season, auditions were held for the Lehigh Concert Band. Our first performance, the Christmas Concert, was very well attended. Ronald Rogers appeared as guest soloist.

Our second concert was composed of works by Serge Prokofieff, Ralph Vaughan Williams, Paul Dukas, and Hector Berlioz. Richard Franko Goldman appeared as guest conductor. The Moravian College for Women Glee Club, the Lehigh University Glee Club, and the Lehigh University Brass Choir also appeared on the program.

Other activities for the band included participating in the Spring Music Festival and making numerous concert tours to local high schools. As a climax to another successful season, the band, along with other Lehigh musical organizations, performed the fourth annual "Pops" concert. Because of his magnificent performance at the Christmas concert, Ronald Rogers again appeared as guest soloist.

Seven years ago, through the diligent efforts of Chaplain Bean, the Chapel Choir was formed. Today the choir has within its group approximately forty members.

The musical program of Packer Memorial Chapel is provided by the Chapel Choir under the direction of Professor George L. Gansz, the University Organist. Each Sunday the group can be heard leading the congregation in sacred song. During the holiday seasons, the Chapel Choir combines with the St. Luke's Hospital Nurse's Choir to form the University Chorale. Performances have included: "Stabat Mater" by Pergolesi, "The Ballad of Judas Iscariot" by Pervis, and excerpts from the "Crucifixion" by Stainer.

To add diversion and interest to the group's program, Professor Gansz has maintained an active social calendar. This includes numerous picnics, hayrides, dances and skating parties. The most satisfying experience of the year, however, is at Christmas, when the University Chorale goes carolling at the St. Luke's Hospital and in and around the city of Bethlehem.

Lehigh's versatile and ever-popular Glee Club again attained great heights this year under the leadership of Professor George L. Gansz.

After two months of intensive rehearsing, the Glee Club started its season in December with the traditional Christmas Vesper service in Packer Memorial Chapel. In reverent silence, the overflowing congregation listened to the beautiful Christmas Carols as they were sung by the one hundred and sixty voices of the combined choirs of Lehigh and Moravian College for Women. This program was broadcast over two local radio stations, and also taped for rebroadcast by The Voice of America.

In January, the Club made its annual trek to Centenary Junior College where they were cordially received. In the early part of February the songsters appeared in a Sunday Recital Series concert with the University Orchestra. Also in February, the Club invaded the South for a joint concert with the women of Sweet Briar College. To cement the cordial relationships between the two schools, Lehigh reciprocated by having the Sweet Briar choir at Bethlehem in a combined concert early in March. A few weeks later the warblers, in another major undertaking, presented a program with the Cedar Crest College choir at the Allentown school. The month of April was centered around the sixth annual Spring Music Festival held in Grace Hall.

The Glee Club closed its season in May with concerts at high schools and business clubs in the New Jersey and Pennsylvania area, ending another year of successful singing at Lehigh.

In 1912 a group of Lehigh students from Allentown formed the Allentown-Lehigh Organization. It is from this organization that the present Alpha Lambda Omega social fraternity, formally chartered and recognized by the University, has evolved.

Membership in A L O is open to any man who can lay claim to being a "Town-man." Inasmuch as the membership of the fraternity is largely made up of residents of the immediate area it can lay claim to truly being Lehigh's local fraternity. At present there are 90 men in the group making us one of the larger active organizations in the Lehigh family.

The fraternity strives for full participation in campus activities with representatives in Arcadia, Brown & White, the Band, Mustard & Cheese and Varsity teams. A L O again ruled the roost in intramural football and has teams entered in other intramural sports.

Six A L O parties are held throughout the year along with a smoker and initiation banquet. Our own houseparty revels, Lafayette party, Christmas party, Spring party and farewell picnic are times never to be forgotten.

A L O is in a unique position in that it extends a welcome hand of friendship to many men who would not otherwise get to enjoy their measure of campus life.

Under the fine direction of its officers and faculty advisors, A L O and its recently organized Alumni organization will continue to uphold Lehigh's fine traditions. They are sure to be a group you will be hearing more about in the coming years.

Continuing in the tradition of the last five years, the 1953 Lehigh Music Festival proved itself to be as different as it was enjoyable. "Music from Earth" and "Music from Space" were presented to the Lehigh audience, complimented by lighting, color projection, original narrative and choreography.

The annual all-student production presented in Grace Hall on April 17th and 18th, utilized a student-constructed set 100 feet wide and 33 feet deep, including a 97 foot projection screen. Lighting for the '53 show required 90,000 watts, 20,000 more than ever before. Slides and motion pictures added background to the music, and five slide projectors constructed by the technical staff were used to view the images cast on the screen.

The Lehigh Glee Club and Concert Band formed the nucleus of the musical group, presenting "Music from Earth" in Part I. Songs of many lands were included with corresponding color projection. A section of popular music featured the talents of the Collegians, the Cliff Clefs, and several special dance groups.

"Music from Space", Part II of the show, was planned with Marc Blitzstein's "Airborne Symphony" as the central idea and also featured "Music Out of the Moon" by Harry Revel. The set, constructed as a highlight to Part II, depicted the futuristic idea of Space through the use of eccentric design. Raised platforms and ramps formed a turreted mountainside along the north wall of Grace Hall where the music groups were assembled.

This year, as in the past, the Brown Key Society has been busy with its program of aiding visiting athletic teams, performing services for various University activities and serving as general host and guide for many functions connected with Lehigh.

The Society's membership has been proud to carry out a comprehensive program designed to further intercollegiate relations. Coaches, managers and members of visiting teams, whether they be of the football squad or the fencing team soon become acquainted with the friendly Brown Key member who is always present to give needed assistance. Spectators and visitors to University athletic and social programs also find the wearer of the Brown Key armband a welcome guide as well as a helpful host.

With an aim toward increasing common bonds with other colleges, Brown Key, together with Varsity "L", sponsored the new All Sports Trophy for Lafayette-Lehigh competition. Lehigh was the first recipient of the award which was given at the annual football game between the two rivals.

By fund-raising programs, such as ushering at athletic contests, selling balloons, and through membership dues, the Society has become financially firm. Brown Key hopes to some day in the future be in a position to promote student grants for deserving athletes, but for the present the members have found it an honor and a privilege to serve Lehigh.

The Sailing Club had a highly successful season this Fall, both in campus activities and in intercollegiate racing. A large turnout of new and old members and a great amount of interest shown by everyone allowed the club to send teams to all meets to which Lehigh was invited and to hold several social events.

For the first time in the history of the club, invitations were received to three of the major regattas of the season. The team placed third out of nine schools in the Nevins regatta, held at Kings Point, N. Y., seventh out of thirteen at the Timme-Angsten at Chicago and fourth out of seven at the Potomac Frostbite Regatta in Washington, D. C. At each regatta Lehigh crossed the finish line ahead of several major schools, such as Navy, Notre Dame and Maryland.

The freshman team also had a good season. At the Greater Philadelphia Area Championships, the team collected thirty-nine out of a possible forty points, nosing out such schools as Princeton and Penn. They then went on to second place in the Middle Atlantic Freshman Championship held at Fort Schuyler, N. Y.

The high interest shown by the members is reflected in the fact that arrangements have been made to keep the club's three Penguin class sailing dinghies at Split Rock Lodge in the Poconos, thus, affording better sailing and allowing home regattas to be held.

Town Council

As in the past, the Mustard and Cheese Club of Lehigh University has again this year done a great deal to promote and foster dramatic ideals on the University campus. The past season was, in fact, one of the fullest and most varied in the long, colorful history of the organization.

In the Fall of 1952, things got under way rapidly with a full-scale selling campaign for the Lehigh Film Society, an M&C organization founded to enjoy a series of Hollywood classics. The hard earned results of the campaign put us in the black to the extent that we were able to purchase a sky cyclorama for use in future productions.

At the same time, casting and planning were being carried out for the December production of Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra". The show, staged with imaginative effectiveness by Mr. Allen Bowers, our new technical director, was received enthusiastically by a large audience of campus and town theatre-goers.

Without allowing any dust to settle, the group next went into rehearsal for two plays to be given in March. Taxing his versatility to the utmost, Professor H. B. Davis undertook the direction of both shows concurrently. The first, "Murder in the Cathedral", by T. S. Eliot, was successfully staged twice on March 8th, while a farcical version of Sheridan's "The Rivals" took place March 20th and 21st.

The latter play was given in cooperation with Interfraternity Council's Greek Weekend, a fact which proved to be of mutual advantage to the success of both events. Now that the pattern has been established, it's to be hoped that the same idea will be continued in following years.

To wind up the season, a series of one-act plays are currently being planned for May. We have high hopes that these may be used competitively with other colleges in Pennsylvania, as well as being shown to the local public.

The year has been one of the most noteworthy in the history of Mustard and Cheese. The organization has continued its steady growth in popularity and achievement just as it will continue to do in years to come.

The purpose of the Interfaith Council of Lehigh University is to promote understanding and harmony among the faiths. The Council's main function this year, as it has been for the past two years, was the presentation of the new Annual Conference on Religion, which was scheduled on the University Calendar for March 8-11.

The component groups of the Interfaith Council are the Christian Council, Hillel Society and the Newman Club. These three represent the major faiths at Lehigh and are represented in the Council by three members from each organization.

The introduction of an Annual Conference on Religion has helped to increase the religious awareness on the Lehigh University campus. This year Mustard and Cheese undertook to present two performances of "Murder in the Cathedral", which brought together members of all faiths to start the Conference. This was in addition to the well planned individual programs of the three member organizations.

Added burden fell on the Council this year, as it operated without the guidance of Chaplain Bean, who had helped our group immeasurably in the past two years.

The Christian Council of Lehigh University is composed of representatives of seven protestant religious organizations (Alpha Chi Epsilon, Canterbury Club, Chapel Choir, Lutheran Student Fellowship, Wesley Fellowship, and Westminster Fellowship) and ten committee chairmen (Cell Groups, Chapel, Conference on Religion, Discussions, Interfaith, Publicity, Social Service, Student Christian Movement, and Visitations), each of whom directs an area of voluntary Christian activity.

This year, as in previous years, the Christian Council was instrumental in organizing Lehigh's Third Annual Conference on Religion which was held on March 8-11. Opening with the presentation of "Murder in the Cathedral", the conference continued with noon discussions, afternoon seminars, personal interviews, and faculty meetings on the theme "The Meaning of Life in an Age of Crisis."

During the year, the Social Service Committee has engaged in a noteworthy program of supervised recreation for the boys and girls of Wiley House, the local Children's home, and has sent groups of volunteers to help with social service work in Philadelphia, Pa. Cell Groups have had a healthy expansion and several new groups are meeting regularly for prayer, discussions, and fellowship. The Chapel Committee, instituted to further attendance at Chapel and local church services, now includes a representative in every fraternity and dormitory. The Student Christian Movement Committee has actively represented Lehigh at various conferences.

The aim of the Westminster Fellowship, the Presbyterian Church member group of Lehigh's Christian Council, is to promote Christian companionship and worship through a varied program of spiritual, intellectual and social events. With over fifty members, the ranks of the co-ed group are at their highest point in history and the drive continues for new members.

Weekly Sunday evening supper meetings this year have featured panel discussions on timely topics, speakers from all walks of church life, informal gatherings and movies, including some of the top religious films of the day. The meetings are held in the First Presbyterian Church; however, the Fellowship has taken to the wide open spaces on more than one occasion for hikes, picnics, hayrides, skating parties and for the final meeting of the year, the annual retreat weekend in May.

A fitting climax for a year of good fellowship, the retreat is held in a nearby camp in the Pocono's and provides a weekend of fun, relaxation and spiritual refreshment. Visitation Sunday is another big day in the group's busy year. On this day, the members visit shut-ins of the church for a few minutes of cheerful conversation. To welcome incoming freshmen from Lehigh and Moravian Colleges for Men and Women, the group helps to serve a banquet given by the church session in September.

Through the endeavors of the Hillel Society of Lehigh University the Jewish student is helped in the fields of religion, cultural activity, social life and a varied athletic program.

Following tradition, Hillel continues to have a wide scope of activities, with the main feature of the year encompassing the Conference on Religion. As an outgrowth of the Conference, Hillel has found among its members a desire for speakers on Judaism and other cultural subjects. These talks have now been coordinated into Hillel's program.

Each summer one or two outstanding Hillel members are sent to the National Leadership Training Institute, where problems on both a national and local level are discussed.

Since the number of Jewish students at Lehigh has risen in the past year, there have been many new and competent hands available for work in the Hillel's organization. With proper guidance, Hillel should continue on the upward path of better functional activity and greater constructive human effort in its fields of endeavor.

Alpha Phi Omega, largest national service fraternity, completed in 1953 its eleventh year of service to Lehigh University and the Lehigh Valley. The fraternity was founded in 1925 at Lafayette College by a group of former Boy Scouts who recognized the desirability of carrying over into their campus life the ideals and principles which they adopted as Scouts in their boyhood days. There are now more than two hundred and sixty chapters throughout the United States.

Alpha Psi Chapter was founded at Lehigh University in 1936 by a handful of former Eagle Scouts. The group continued in existence for five years until 1941 when World War II made it necessary to disband the organization. The chapter was reactivated in 1947 and today has sixty-five active members.

The service projects of APO on the Lehigh campus are numerous. Freshmen week activities are planned and conducted by the chapter in conjunction with Cyanide. Ushering at Student Concert Lectures and the Spring Musical Festival has become traditional. Besides the above projects, the chapter manages the following activities: Fall and Spring book sale, parking cars at football games, Lehigh University blood bank, balloting and vote counting of student elections, and the annual Scout Visitation Day. On November 15th more than 1,000 scouts and scoutmasters from councils within a fifty mile radius came to tour the campus.

Throughout the year the Political Science Assembly conducts many activities which not only provide an outlet for students interested in governmental affairs, but are also of service to the Lehigh campus.

Debates, radio broadcasts, and other methods of enlightening the Lehigh student body are used by this group to bring national governmental problems and affairs to the campus. During the past year the Political Science Assembly conducted a presidential poll to determine whom the Lehigh family favored as its choice in the election. Ike won by an overwhelming majority on the Lehigh ballot. Furthermore, the Political Science Assembly favored this choice as its own in its annual convention, which this past year was a model nomination convention.

In addition, P.S.A. members have a busy calendar of district, regional, and executive meetings at which they meet with leaders from other campuses to consider points of common interest to determine policies and plans for the state-wide Intercollegiate Conference on Government of which the Political Science Assembly is the local chapter.

Founded October 12, 1902 by President Emeritus Charles F. Scott, the Lehigh Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this Fall. A suitable birthday party feted the occasion which was enhanced by the presence of Dr. J. L. Beaver, who was also present when the association was formed. The Lehigh branch, the first of 127 branches in American colleges and universities, is comprised of undergraduate students of electrical engineering.

The purposes of the organization are to achieve a closer relationship between students of this curriculum and the faculty and to present opportunities for the student to gain an intimate knowledge of his field. In this endeavor the society brings to the members outstanding men from industry to inform the group of the opportunities, problems, needs and achievements of the electrical industry.

Frequently there are slides and feature films on various phases of the industry. During the meetings this year representatives of Bell Telephone Laboratories, Allis-Chalmers, Philco Corporation, Pennsylvania Water and Power Commission, and General Electric spoke to the organization. In addition the program featured a special demonstration and lecture on Safety Measures by representatives of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company.

Since its first meeting more than three and one-half years ago the Student Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers has advanced and grown steadily. The purposes which the Lehigh Student Branch strives to achieve are to give the undergraduate an opportunity to develop a closer association with the field which he has chosen for his career, and to attain a closer relationship with his fellow students and his faculty.

In order to accomplish these purposes there have been many fine speeches at our meetings throughout the year. The speeches were presented by faculty members from our Industrial Engineering Department at Lehigh, and by men from industries such as Armstrong Cork, General Electric, and Warren Foundry and Pipe Corp.

The society has two publications which are enjoyed by the members each month. Of these two informative magazines, the A. I. E. Newsletter helps to unite the various chapters and keeps the members well informed of decisions and activities of our chapters, as well as those of the National Headquarters. The other publication, The Journal of Industrial Engineering, contains many interesting articles on industrial engineering projects, theories and equipment of today.

The Chapter's social program, consisting of smokers and informal get-togethers, is highlighted each year by a banquet in November and a spring picnic held in conjunction with the A. S. M. E. at a local park.

The present student physics club at Lehigh traces its existence to 1948, when a group of interested physics students undertook a reorganization of the society, using other campus course societies for its model. The society flourished as a purely local organization until January, 1951 when, after several months of petitioning, associate membership was granted in the American Institute of Physics. The society took pride in being among the first of college physics clubs to be allowed such a privilege.

This Fall, as the society entered into the third year of its affiliation with A.I.P., a broad program of future activities was outlined; and aside from various field trips to places such as Philco and Brookhaven Laboratories, it was planned to invite a wide variety of speakers, with topics ranging from experimental aspects of physics to the more philosophical consideration of science. Dr. Curtis' talk on strain waves in matter illustrates the former, while the latter aspect was represented by Dr. Grunbaum's talk on the philosophy of natural science. Other highlights during the year were the combined meeting with Sigma Xi, and a second combined meeting with Pi Mu Epsilon and the Blake Society.

A well-rounded year was completed with the election of officers for 1953, and the annual Spring picnic at the reservoir.

Alpha Kappa Psi, the first national professional business fraternity, was founded in 1904, and the chapter at Lehigh was installed in 1924. Today the fraternity has over seventy-five undergraduate chapters and twenty-six graduate chapters in major cities from coast to coast. The membership of Alpha Kappa Psi consists of over 28,000 professionally trained members and approximately 700 faculty members on the staffs of colleges and universities.

The national organization is quite active and performs many valuable services for the members. Currently it maintains a placement bureau to assist graduating seniors and alumni members to make desirable business contacts. A directory with photographs and qualifications of members is sent to over 2000 leading business firms throughout the United States. The fraternity also has several scholarships plus a Student Loan Fund which makes loans to undergraduate and graduate members for completion of degree requirements.

Locally, the chapter's main activity is the sponsorship of varied professional programs. During the year, the members are given the opportunity of hearing outstanding speakers from the business world, and are shown many informative movies about various phases of business activity. Inspection trips are another interesting phase of our program; Hess Brothers, Bethlehem Steel, Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, and the New York Stock Exchange are only several of the places that have been visited. Banquets, beer parties and picnics give Alpha Kappa Psi a well rounded yearly program.

The Civil Engineering Society was organized in 1873 and is the oldest organization of its kind on the campus. It was reorganized in 1922 and became affiliated with the American Society of Civil Engineers as a student chapter. Since then, the chapter has worked very closely with Lehigh Valley Section, A.S.C.E.

The chapter serves the student in many ways. First, it provides opportunities for students to become better acquainted with recent developments in the various fields of civil engineering. Second, students are afforded opportunities to meet and talk with professional engineers. Third, they can learn more about the types of work which engineers of different companies do. Fourth, it enables the students from all classes to become better acquainted with their instructors and fellow students.

The chapter holds a meeting each month at which an outstanding engineer gives an illustrated lecture on some engineering project. Inspection trips are sponsored by the society, and movies are obtained on many major projects. The lectures throughout the year included a discussion of a project in each of the following fields of civil engineering: sanitation, highways, steel erection, reinforced concrete construction, sales, and water supply. A Christmas Banquet was held this year at which the seniors put on a program for the entertainment of faculty, students, and alumni. The chapter also sponsored a picnic in the Spring.

In 1911 the Lehigh Student Branch of the A.S.M.E. was founded to broaden the student's knowledge of the practical side of mechanical engineering and to acquaint the student with engineers in active practice.

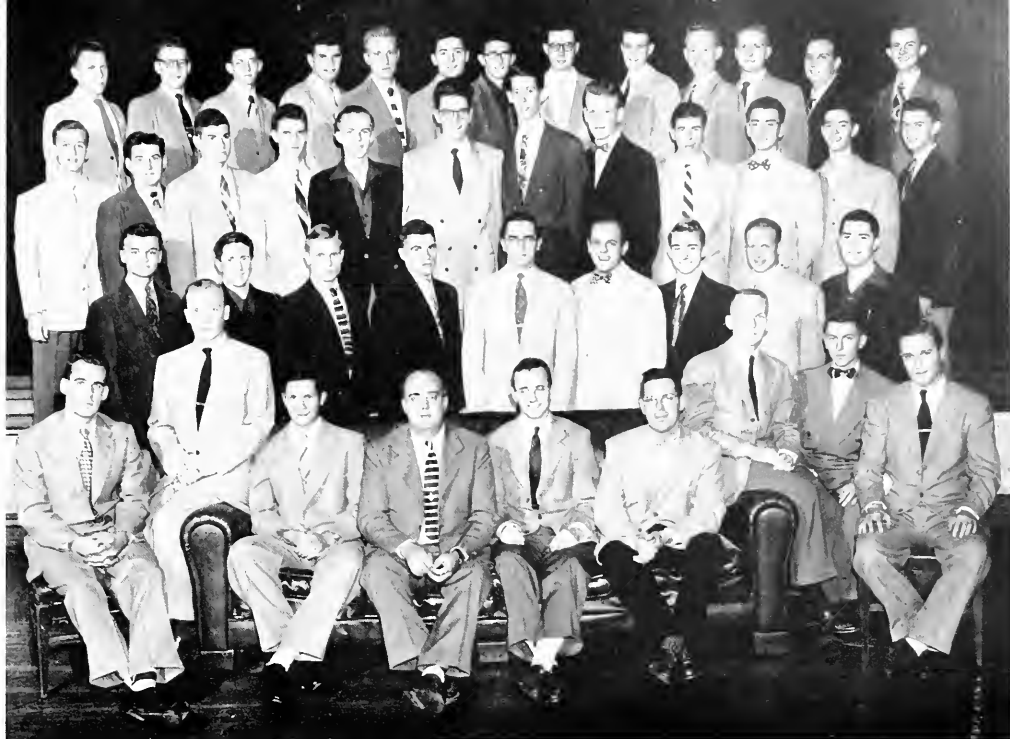

The current year was started with an active and concerted membership drive which proved to be extremely successful. In order to continue at our increased rate of activity and to satisfy the objectives of the Student Branch, prominent engineers gave illustrated lectures on topics of technical interest at each of our monthly meetings. These lectures were selected to cover all the various phases of mechanical engineering including machine design, air conditioning, and heat power. Also, through these meetings, an opportunity was provided for the student to become better acquainted with the members of the faculty and with fellow students.

In line with our social activities, the annual Lehigh-Lafayette Smoker, sponsored by the Anthracite-Lehigh Valley Section of the A.S.M.E., was held during the Fall semester. In the Spring the picnic was held complete with softball games, volleyball games, and other varied activities.

As the year drew to a close, representatives were sent to the annual Regional Student Conference at Princeton University. The program of activities included banquets, tours, and social events, and the highlight was the presentation, in competition, of papers on subjects in the field of mechanical engineering by the student delegates.

The Student Chemical Society is the oldest student society on the campus, founded November 7, 1871. Under the present program, this society integrates the functions of the two professional societies, serves to interest especially the freshman and sophomore classes in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, and operates the social program of the departmental societies.

The Student Chapter, American Institute of Chemical Engineers was established at Lehigh on December 4, 1949, to provide for the professional development of the students in chemical engineering. The emphasis in the year's program was on the various fields of endeavor open to graduate chemical engineers.

The Chapter of Student Affiliates, American Chemical Society, was chartered on February 25, 1949, in order to aid undergraduate students in Chemistry in gaining some insight into the professional side of their chosen careers.

The Metallurgy Society is an organization composed of students majoring in the field of metallurgical engineering. The monthly meetings of the Society serve as a source of gathering information regarding developments in, and related to, the metallurgical field. The meetings also give the members of various classes an opportunity to meet and exchange views on subjects of common interest.

This year the Society invited members of the arts and business faculties to speak on subjects of a non-technical nature, in order that the members may be better informed as to the role that they, as engineers, play in society. Also, technical men in various fields of endeavor were invited to talk, so that the student could supplement his textbook education and at the same time, get a better outlook on the opportunities in the various aspects of industry.

Several social functions were held in addition to the regular monthly meetings. In December, the Society held its annual Christmas banquet, while in May the faculty joined the students for the annual picnic.

The Robert W. Hall Pre-Medical Society was founded in 1922 in honor of the first head of the Biology Department, Robert W. Hall. The aim of the Society is to further interest in pre-medical and medical education and the field of biology in general.

Toward the attainment of this aim, a great variety of speakers is secured from local hospitals, medical school faculties, and the ranks of practicing physicians. Movies are shown from time to time on subjects of interest to the group. Current information on medical school admissions and catalogs from many institutions are made available to the members.

In addition to these activities, the Society takes field trips to local hospitals and mental institutions. Joint meetings are often held with Alpha Epsilon Delta. Moreover, the R. W. Hall Society joins with several other similar organizations in the Lehigh Valley for an annual pre-medical banquet.

Varsity "L" Club

The Lehigh University Cosmopolitan Club has been instituted for the expressed purpose of "... uniting socially and intellectually, upon grounds of mutual understanding and appreciation, students and faculty of all nationalities represented at Lehigh University: to promote friendly relations and a right standard of order, toleration, and justice among them; and to promote fellowship and good-will among nations, based upon our common humanity".

Because of its diversified membership, the Cosmopolitan Club engages in many varied activities. Dinner meetings, held at Lamberton Hall, provide ample opportunity for informal discussions of timely topics, presented by faculty members, students and guest speakers. These talks are often illustrated by moving pictures.

In the field of social activities, the Cosmopolitan Club holds many social gatherings at various fraternity houses: these parties, which are very popular with the members of the club, are open to all members of the Lehigh family and are enhanced by the presence of the foreign students from the neighboring colleges for women.

The individual members of the Cosmopolitan Club are often asked to speak at the meetings of various civic groups and societies in Bethlehem and vicinity. The topics of these talks center on the various aspects of life in the countries represented in the club.

Dames Club

The Dames Club of Lehigh University was organized in February 1946 to provide social advantages for the wives of undergraduate and graduate students. The original group consisted of 187 members. The first president was ably assisted by a faculty advisor and committee heads representing program and entertainment, refreshments, publicity and membership.

Meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month with an additional director's meeting once a month. Elections are held yearly.

This year's meeting opened with a tea to welcome newcomers. A variety of programs followed, including a cosmetic demonstration and a fashion show by Hess Brothers Department Store, a political science talk, on the eve before election, by Dr. Rosco J. Tresolini, a flower arrangement demonstration, a card party and a talk on handicapped children by Miss Major of the Stevens School in Allentown. The children of members were entertained at a Christmas party and husbands and Dames enjoyed a barn dance.

The Lehigh University Flying Club is composed of a group of students at the University whose common interest is aviation. The main objective of the club is to provide flying facilities which are within the financial means of the students.

The club holds meetings monthly in their own room in Drown Hall. At the meetings a program is presented usually consisting of a speaker or films on aviation. The membership is not restricted in any way and there is no initiation fee. The present enrollment numbers about forty men, which includes twenty student pilots and five licensed pilots.

The flying activities are held at the Beth-Easton Airport on Route 22. At present the club does not own its own plane, but has a contract with the airport operator. Rates of about two-thirds of those obtainable elsewhere are thus assured. Instruction is available at the airport and after seventeen hours of instruction and eighteen hours of solo flying, a student may get a private pilot's license. A beginner solos within the first ten hours of instruction. An Aeronca Champion is used as the trainer and is an excellent and easy to handle airplane for the beginner.

Since 1948 the club has suffered from the decline in aviation enthusiasm which is of a nationwide scope. However, the club now hopes to buy its own airplane, and if the plan materializes even lower flying rates will be available. Flying could then be within the financial reach of most students and the enthusiasm in aviation would again increase.

While most Lehigh students were relaxing and enjoying their spring vacations, Coach Eb Caraway and his 1952 crew of diamonders headed South to open their baseball season. It will be a while, however, before the Engineers start believing in the famous "Southern Hospitality" as they were handed five losses during the six-game swing through Maryland and Virginia.

Pre-season predictions of strong pitching, dependable catching, but questionable fielding and hitting became an actuality during the season and the southern excursion was quick to bring out these tendencies. Memories of losses to the Quantico Marines (2), Hampden-Sydney, Fort Lee, and Richmond were partially eclipsed by the tour's final contest which the Engineers won largely through the four-hit pitching of Ron Jirsa. On the trip, 29 of the opponents' total of 54 runs were unearned showing how costly Lehigh's errors in the field proved at that early date.

It's a three-bagger!

Caraway's squad opened its regular season by drubbing Colgate unmercifully, 16-1. Darkness prevented the slaughter from being worse. Jirsa not only pitched six hit ball, but also banged out a 400-foot triple to aid his cause. Wagner dimmed Lehigh's hopes quickly though as they dropped the Engineers 7-2, although they were out-hit by the Packers.

The next three games saw some of the most amazing pitching by Engineer hurlers that has ever been chucked in Brown and White history. Frank Yurek in popping off Swarthmore, 9-6, whiffed 20 enemy batters for a new Lehigh mark in that de-

Not to be out-done by his mound buddies, Ed Leidheiser came back while pitching the Franklin and Marshall game to fan 18 opponent sluggers and to go for five himself at the plate to rack the 15-4 win. Ron Jirsa, with a 7-1 hurling record led the team to its 11 won, 12 lost record. He struck out 85 batters and had the lowest earned run average of any Lehigh chucker, 2.39. For the third straight campaign, the golf team, this time the 1952 edition, missed a perfect season by the slimmest of margins—one loss. Nevertheless, the squad, led by Captain Bob Kiesling and coached by Bill Leckonby, turned in a record of 10 wins against the lone setback to keep its reputation of being one of the “winningest” sports on South Mountain.

The pitch-and putt men got off to a roaring start by whipping their first eight opponents before the Scarlet clubbers from Rutgers University broke the string in a tight 5-4 match. The loss also marked the Engineers’ first setback in 18 starts over a two-year period.

Pennsylvania, Franklin and Marshall, Temple, Haverford, Lafayette, Muhlenberg, Delaware, and Swarthmore went down before the high-driving, accurate-putting Lehigh golfers before the clean slate was divoted.

Following the Rutgers heartbreaker, the Packers waltzed over Gettysburg, 8-1, and eked out their final match over rival Lafayette, 5-4. For Coach Leckonby the year saw his all-time Lehigh golf coaching record soar to the fantastic heights of 51 wins, only seven losses, and two ties.

Lacrosse

Playing and losing to the top lacrosse teams of the Southland, the Engineer 1952 Lacrosse squad began one of its most dismal seasons on record since the sport was initiated on the South Mountain campus 67 years ago. The early Spring southern excursion found the Packers bowing to the University of Baltimore in the "Lacrosse Capital of the World", 19-3, and succumbing in similar manner to Washington and Lee, and Duke before garnering a draw with North Carolina in the last 12 seconds of play, and a win over the Norfolk Naval Reserve team.

Lehigh opened its regular season at home with a loss in a game with Stevens which featured 25 penalties. Pete Taylor almost gave Coach "Doc" Dockham's Engineers their first regular win when he pulled the "hat trick" by scoring three goals against Delaware, but the Hens came back in overtime to win 11-9. With nine goals scored in the first period, Rutgers romped to an easy win, as did Washington college in a contest highlighted by Tom Sheridan's three counters.

After continuing their losing ways against Pennsylvania and Swarthmore, the Engineers finally notched a triumph by drubbing Western Maryland, 12-5, paced by Taylor's second "hat trick" of the year. Before dropping their last game of the season to Drexel, the South Mountain Ten assured themselves of at least a morally successful year by bumping off Lafayette, 16-8, with Sheridan collecting five goals.

Although the Spring southern excursion of the 1952 Lehigh Tennis team, which opened the informal part of the group's schedule, didn't appear to be a success from the standpoint of the one-win, four-loss record, it proved an invaluable success in terms of the experience gained by the team members.

After dropping High Point in its opener, the Engineers then bumped into the real "toughies" of the South. The men of Coach Lloyd Taylor lost to North Carolina State, Duke, rated tops in the South, Davidson, and North Carolina.

Winning all but two sets, Swarthmore handed Lehigh its first loss of the regular campaign. The Engineers came right back, however, to edge out Rutgers 5-4. Captain Hal McKinley teamed with Newt Bugbee to win the deciding doubles match for the victory.

Lehigh romped to easy wins over Muhlenberg and Gettysburg before Haverford's courtmen whipped them in a hard fought contest, 6-3. For the Fords it was their twenty-eighth straight win over a six-year period in Middle Atlantic League play. The Packers bounced right back after the defeat to nudge Temple, 5-4, on a decisive doubles triumph by Bill Dengler and Murray Miller, played in a driving rain storm. The final three games with Drexel, Lafayette and Pennsylvania found Taylor men on the short end of the scores in each case.

Beginning the 1952 season under the mentorship of their new coach, Gerald Leeman, the Lehigh Cross Country team displayed excellent form and came through a rough schedule with four victories, a second place, and one lone defeat.

Co-captains Dave Henderson and Bill Colclough headed a veteran team which had distinguished itself throughout the 1951 campaign.

Outstanding among the harriers' accomplishments this season were one-sided victories chalked up at the expense of Franklin and Marshall, Swarthmore, and Muhlenberg. Bob Vekony paced the Engineers in these meets with two first places.

The team sustained its lone defeat at the hands of a strong Rutgers squad. They placed second in a triangular meet with Haverford and Gettysburg. Haverford won the triangular meet, but there was a bright spot for Lehigh in the performance of Duane Jennings, who, because of the rule on freshman athletics was prevented from competing on the varsity team. However, Jennings ran with the team all season for practice, and against Haverford took an unofficial second place in record-breaking time.

The Engineers rounded out the season in top form as they smashed Lafayette, 21-35. Bob Vekony closed out his collegiate career by placing first for the third time in the season, while co-captains Henderson and Colclough placed third and sixth, respectively.

Lehigh's Track team really kicked up their heels during the 1952 season with remnants of broken records and victory dust left in their wake. Coach Bill Whitton's men amassed wins in three dual meets, a tie in another, a nice triangular meet triumph, and a fourth place spot in the Middle Atlantic Championships.

Being one of the few Spring sports on the South Mountain not to benefit from a southern conditioning tour before the regular season, the Engineer thin-clads went into their opening meet, a team of questionable ability. However, when that meet was over and the Packers had invaded and conquered the Delaware tracksters by the lopsided score of 80-46, Coach Whitton knew he had the prospects for a good season on the cinders.

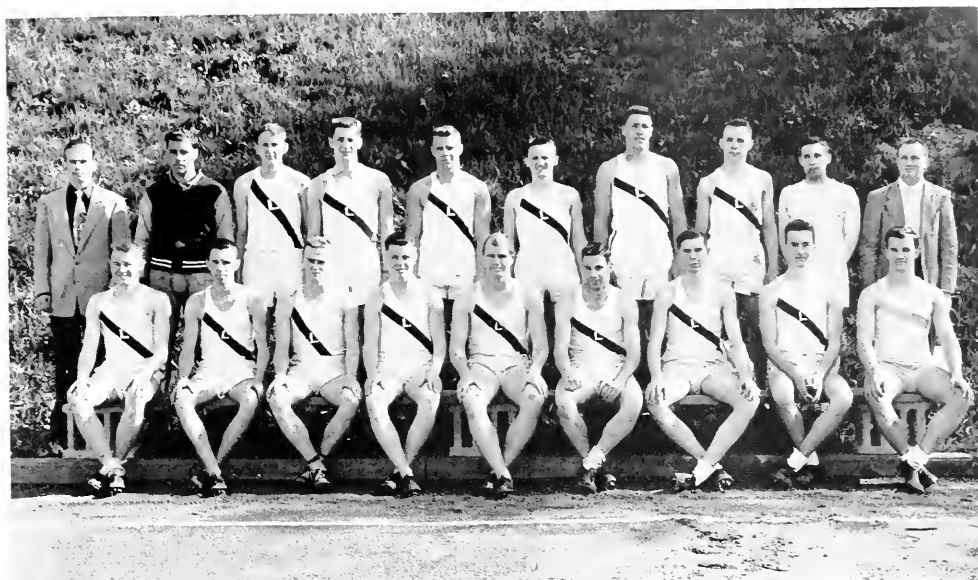

In the Hen roost, Clyde Royster, century and 220-yard dash man and the Brown and White weightmen led the charge. Don Bell in the shot put event set a new Delaware record with his heave. With both Bell and Royster repeating their performances in their events, Lehigh pushed aside both Muhlenberg and Gettysburg in the triangular meet and looked to be on its way to making track history with an undefeated year.

Rutgers had other thoughts, though, and shattered the Engineers' dreams with a smarting 77-49 defeat. Bouncing right back again into top form, the Brown and Whiter gained a tie with highly touted Haverford who hadn't lost a dual meet in four years. Trailing by nine points going into the discus event, Lehigh, behind Tom Stark, Bill Horn, and Bell, grabbed all three places in the event to assure the tie. Stark broke the discus record for the meet, hurling the discus 16 feet further than ever before.

There was no stopping the Lehigh fleetfoots in the Ursinus and F & M meets, which they won easily. In the latter, Bill Colclough scored a double win in the half and mile events. This was the sixth straight meet in which the Lehigh silkster scored a double triumph.

The season ended on a sour note with a loss to Lafayette by a close score of 66-60. In the Middle Atlantics, Whitton's speedsters finished in fourth place due largely to the record-breaking performance of Bell who was the only Engineer to snag a first spot in an event.

The season marked the second for Coach Whitton. High point scores for the season were Royster in the 100 and 220-yard races; Colclough in the half mile runs; Bob Hourihan in the 440-yard event; Dave Henderson in the two-mile grind; Ray Vartanian in the high hurdles; Paul Hulleberg in the low hurdles; Bell in the shot put; Stark in the discus; George Lemmon in the high jump; Vartanian in the broad jump; and Marty Maurer and Bob Anderson in the pole vault.

Football

Football at Lehigh experienced one of its lean years during the 1952 season. If you glance at the summary on this page you will see that the Engineers ended their season with a 5-4 record. That is the way it will appear in the history books—but records aren't football. Football is what the fan can remember about that goal-line stand, or the last second pass for the winning touchdown,—the heart-breaking one-point defeat.

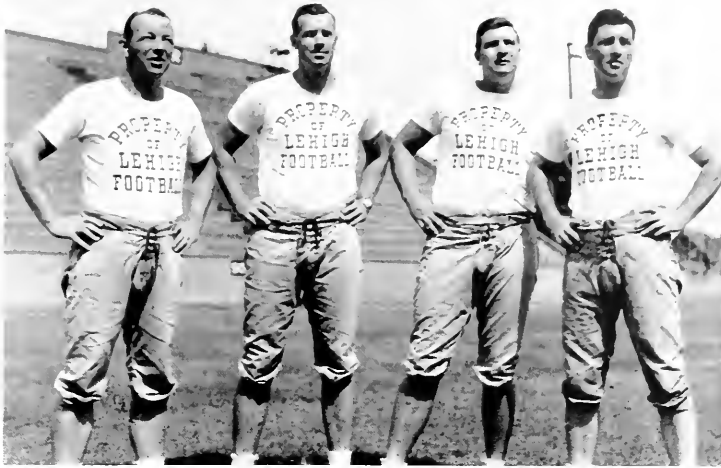

This was a "retrenching" year at Lehigh and the records are not at all surprising. Each Saturday a predominantly "green" Big Brown team charged from its trenches and displayed real spirit and determination despite the odds. In fact if it hadn't been for a fumble jinx during the first part of the season, the records may have been quite different.

Without a doubt the outstanding feature of the past season was the Engineers' defensive play. Their brilliant record proclaims them tops in the east for total defense. Furthermore, one of the mainstays of the defensive backfield, Joe Moyer, set a new punt return record by surpassing Dick Gabriel's 603 yards.

The offensive leg of the team was plagued by fumbles early in the season, a disease not uncommon to a green backfield. However, with experience and hard-learned lessons behind them, the offensive combination began to click in the Buffalo game under the guidance of Jules Clark and Tom Gloede.

Injuries also hampered the offensive attack. Key men such as Harry Garfinkel, Jules Clark, and Dave Walters were forced to leave the field for the remainder of the season, while many other minor injuries hindered the team activities.

NYU 10 LEHIGH 7

Lehigh's Engineers found their season's opener against the Violets of NYU a tough one to win and an even tougher one to lose. With 17 seconds remaining to play and both teams dead-locked in a 7-7 tie, it appeared to the spectators at Triborough Stadium that history recorded an NYU-Lehigh stalemate. However, the power of the toe was momentarily forgotten until Frank Sauchelli place-kicked the pigskin squarely between the uprights for three points, an NYU victor and a heartbreaking Lehigh defeat.

The loss was a heartbreaker because the Big Brown had three scoring chances in the first quarter when they drove deep into Violet territory only to be stalled by two penalties and a goal-line pass interception. Finally, in the second quarter, fullback Bob Bolte broke away from NYU defenders and turned in a twisting 43-yard jaunt for six points. Walt Trillhaase converted the extra point and thus ended Lehigh's scoring on September 27.

NYU finally found the right offensive combination late in the third quarter and tied the contest at 7-7.

Bolte, Schaeffer, O'Brien and Walters did most of the ball-carrying for the luckless Engineers, while Julian Clark passed effectively from the quarterback slot.

Statistics show that the total offense of both teams was very nearly equal. Penalties played a large part in the outcome of the game. This coupled with a relatively inexperienced offensive combination gave the Engineers' a disadvantage which they never quite overcame.

Bob Migliaccio

Jules Clark

In the first home game of the 1952 season, Lehigh played host to the Blue Hens from Delaware University. For the second time in the 1952 season Lehigh had its heart broken as the Hens eked out a 7-6 victory in a game which was packed with fumbles, blocked kicks and goal-line stands.

Delaware capitalized on a Lehigh fumble in the first quarter. The Hens took over on the Lehigh 13 and three plays later registered six points. The deciding seventh point was scored on a trick point-after-touchdown play which saw Delaware fake a kick and pass for the extra point.

Delaware never threatened seriously again, but the Big Brown eleven drove deep into Hen territory three times, scoring only once on a one-yard plunge by Bob Bolte. Trillhaase's extra-point attempt was blocked and the scoreboard read 7-6. Twice more the offensive thrust of the Engineers led by Julian Clark, Bob Bolte, George O'Brien, Howie Schaeffer and Davie Walters, knifed its way inside the Hens' 20-yard line. One drive was stopped on the ten. The third attempt ended on the Delaware 8-yard line when, in a last-second attempt to pull the game out of the fire, Walt Trillhaase's 12-yard field goal attempt was blocked by the Delaware line. (See picture).

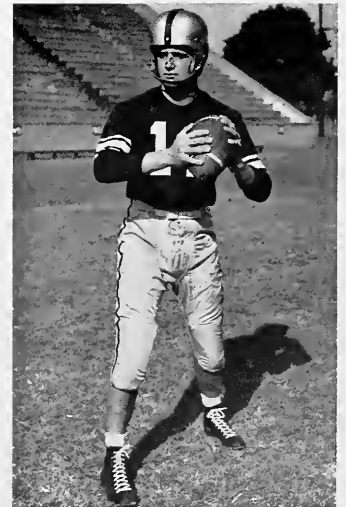

So, for the second week in the season the seemingly luckless Lehigh gridders conceded a heart-breaking victory to their opponents. However, one light was becoming brighter—the offensive eleven was beginning to click, while the defense was continuing its stubborn ways.

BUFFALO 7

LEHIGH 27

Impressive! This is a one-word description of the offensive and defensive attack on the Buffalo Bulls by the Lehigh Engineers when the South Mountain gridders met the New Yorkers in Buffalo's Civic Stadium. The bubble of fumbles and penalties which encased the Lehigh offense during the first two season contests, finally broke, netting the Big Brown 27 points and their first victory of the year.

The defensive eleven, living up to its previous record, was equally devastating as it intercepted six passes, recovered three fumbles, and allowed the Bulls the amazing total of minus 9 yards on the ground and 68 yards through the air.

Maurer, O'Brien, Gunn, and Westfall scored TD's for the Engineers. Herb Meyer added two extra points. The Clark to Gunn combination clicked through the air, while the running of Maurer, Westfall and O'Brien smashed the Bulls on the ground.

The most exciting play of the game occurred in the first period when Ron Westfall, behind superb blocking, took a punt-return reverse from Joe Moyer and raced down the sidelines for 76 yards and Lehigh's second tally.

Buffalo's only score came in the last five seconds of the game on an intercepted Clark pass which was turned into a Bull touchdown by Bill Crowley.

The game, which is now regarded as one of the season's breathers gave Coach Leconby an excellent chance to put some of his reserve strength on the firing line. Tom Gloede, who was destined to take over the first-string quarterbacking role, handled the team nicely through much of the second half. Jack Conti and Dave Walters also saw action and gained experience which undoubtedly paid off in later games—i.e., Muhlenberg and Lafayette.

Now the team had broken the ice—next week Gettysburg at home.

For the fourth week in succession the Lehigh defensive eleven allowed the opposition only one touchdown as the Engineers melted the Gettysburg Bullets 15-7 in a game that was filled with brilliant defensive play.

Play during the entire first half was spent somewhere between the thirty-yard lines of each team. The Lehigh defense bottled up G-Burg's running and highly-rated passing attack, but the Engineer offense was very slow getting started. The first half ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

In the third quarter Taylor Stadium was rocked by a smashing tackle in Gettysburg's end zone. Defensive halfback, Chuck Adams, tore through Bullet defenses and nailed Bob Epplemen, giving the Big Brown a two-point lead. This provided the shock the offense needed. Lehigh marched 55 yards for a score with Julian Clark sneaking the last yard. The Engineers scored another in the last quarter, after capitalizing on a break. Dave Walters dove over the goal for the final tally.

O'Brien, Clark and Maurer did most of the ball carrying for the Engineers. The Bullets were allowed only 23 yards on the ground and 102 yards in the air. Lehigh's defensive prowess was rapidly gaining wide acclaim in the East.

BOSTON U. 29

LEHIGH 20

Boston University defeated Lehigh 29-20 at Taylor Stadium on October 25. Behind this statement of fact is Lehigh's third heart-breaking football defeat of the 1952 season. The old bubble of fumbles surrounded the Engineer offense and gave the visiting Terriers three touchdowns.

Again the defensive efforts of the Big Brown staved off the opponents' scoring efforts. However, not even the stubborn defenses of the respected Lehigh line could stop a team who three times recovered Lehigh fumbles inside the LU 30-yard line: once on the 6; once on the 17; and once just inside the 30.

As in the game against Gettysburg, Lehigh's offense was slow to start. They were held to only 37 yards in the first two quarters. The only first-half Engineer score was set up by Joe Moyer, who returned an intercepted pass to the Boston 26. Three plays later Maurer went over for the score. The half ended 22-7—Boston.

In the second half, the Lehigh passing attack was still ineffective, but the running of Howie Schaeffer, Marty Maurer, and Julian Clark netted Lehigh two more touchdowns. Don DeFeudis, a thorn in Lehigh's side all afternoon, scored three of Boston's four touchdowns and helped to set up the other touchdown and field goal.

Fumbles and DeFeudis fed the bitter pill of defeat to Lehigh for the third time. But, an even more bitter pill was swallowed when the Engineers learned that they had lost the quarterbacking services of Julian Clark for the rest of the season. Tom Gloede took over for Clark in the last quarter after the southpaw had torn ligaments in his leg.

The next game was to be with Bucknell—away. Could the revamped offense heal its wounds in time to meet the Bisons?

Up - Up and away.

Bolte in the clear.

'The Bull' outruns the Bisons.

Gloede is uplifted.

Lehigh carried its fumble bubble along to Lewisburg on November 1 when they met the Bucknell Bisons in a game that should have ended in a very close score. However, for the second straight week, three mistakes gave the opponent possession of the ball within the LU 13-yard line and set up three touchdowns.

Lehigh defensive efforts were again tops as they allowed Bucknell's high-powered ground attack 172 yards, and its air attack 15 yards. In fact, Lehigh's total offense was 31 yards more than Bucknell's, due largely to fine defense and some excellent passing by Tom Gloede who tossed the skin for 113 yards.

The Engineers' only touchdown came when Ron Westfall caught a Gloebe pass in the end zone. Lehigh threatened several other times but was stalled short of the goal: once on the two-yard line.

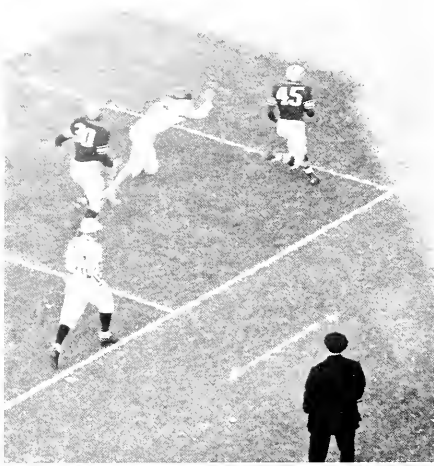

Bucknell's only sustained drive of the game occurred in the first period when they marched 55 yards for a score. From here on the Big Brown's defense stiffened and the remaining three Bison TD's were "relatively unearned".

Marty Maurer continued to run nicely as he piled up 60 yards on the ground. Tom Gloede, who started at quarterback for the first time in the season, handled the offensive attack commendably, despite the fumble bubble which was still unbroken at the end of the game.

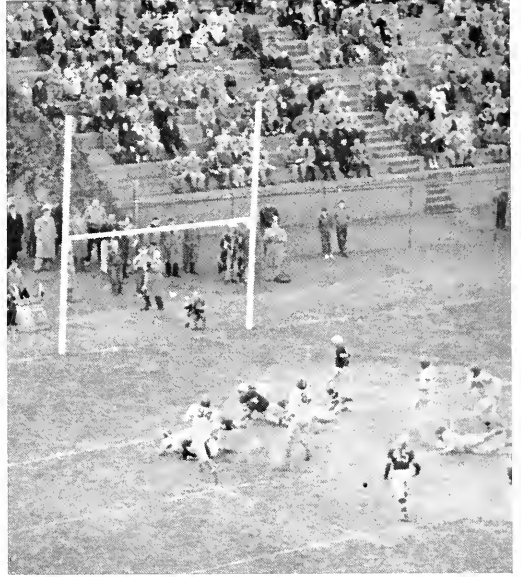

With three games remaining in the season, and a two-win, four-loss record behind them, the slowly aging Engineers were faced with one problem: break the fumble bubble and win the remaining games.

To Lehigh fans who attended the Lehigh-Muhlenberg game in Taylor Stadium on November 8, the early minutes of the contest looked like re-plays of the Boston U. and Bucknell games. Fumbles were flying thick and fast and before the end of the first quarter the visiting Mules took a 13-0 lead by virtue of two fumble recoveries: one on the LU ten and one on the 24.

Suddenly, in the second period, the fog which enshrouded the Engineer offense lifted and the Big Brown romped to three touchdowns before the half ended. Dave Walters, who turned in the best individual ground gaining record for any game of the season, ran wild as he scored two touchdowns in the second period. The speedy sophomore broke away from Mule defenders for 5 and 51-yard touchdown sprints. Cloede, O'Brien, and Maurer also turned in stellar performances as the Engineers displayed the best offensive attack of the season with a total offense of 349 yards. Tom Cloede passed nicely to Gunn and Vallotti all afternoon. One Cloede to Gunn aerial netted 57 yards and a TD.

In the last quarter Joe Moyer made a spectacular diving pass interception which set up the fourth Lehigh score. The Leckmen marched 63 yards on passes from Cloede to Vallotti and running by Walters and O'Brien. O'Brien tallied on an eight-yard smash over the goal line.

Lehigh's defensive eleven maintained its high standards as it allowed the Mules a total of 148 yards and kept them far removed from the Lehigh goal after the first quarter.

To say the least, things were looking up for the team—the marriage of the offense and defense had finally taken place.

Neither Kilts nor mud could stop Lehigh's rejuvenated offense on Nov. 15, as the Engineers piled up a 26-6 decision over plaid clad Carnegie Tech. With several inches of mud on the field and a very heavy dew pelting the gridiron, few fans expected to see either time shine offensively. However, the Engineers passed and ran for a total of 293 yards and four touchdowns.

Lehigh's first score was set up by a recovered fumble on the Tech 20-yard line. After six running plays by O'Brien and Schaeffer, the latter took the pigskin over from two yards out. Later in the first half the ever-dangerous Tom Gunn grabbed a Gloede pass and raced 30 yards for the second Engineer TD. Trillhaase converted the extra point and the score remained 13-0 at halftime. During the first half the Big Brown defensive squad held the Plaid Lads to a 52-yard total offense.

Early in the last quarter Tech scored on an aerial attack which climaxed their only sustained drive of the afternoon. Lehigh was not finished scoring. Tom Gunn returned the kick-off for 52 yards to the Kilts' 24. After a fumble and a series of Tech plays, the Engineers took over on the Tech 25 when an attempted fourth-down punt was fumbled. A series of running plays carried the ball to the one where O'Brien bucked over for the tally.

Near the end of the game Jack Conti went into the Lehigh backfield. A few plays later Conti took the ball around left end, stopped and then threw a perfect 26-yard strike to fullback Maurer in the end zone for the Big Brown's final tally. Trillhaase converted to climax a play which was destined to figure prominently in the outcome of the Lehigh-Lafayette game.

Probably the most exciting play of the game was the 29-yard punt return by Joe Moyer which was made possible by the hardest, cleanest block thrown in Taylor Stadium for many a year. Charlie Hull really let go on that one and gave teammate Moyer the chance to break Gabriel's punt return record.

Result of game: no injuries—primed for Lafayette.

Lehigh football seasons are never complete or successful unless the Engineers defeat their 88-year rivals from Easton. Until the last 90 seconds of the 1952 Lehigh-Lafayette classic a completely successful season for Lehigh looked almost impossible. The unpredictable Leopards were "up" for the big game and held a 7-7 deadlock until the dying seconds. What happened in those last seconds is shown in pictures on this page. A "green" sophomore halfback, and two experienced ends teamed up to unleash a dynamic one-two aerial punch which covered 45 yards and won the game for the Engineers.

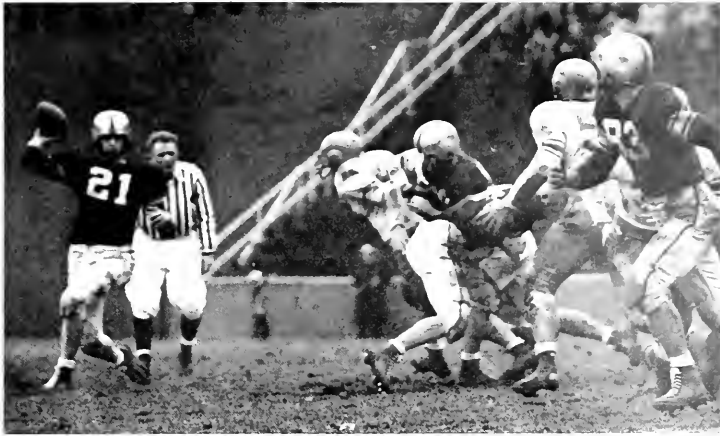

With a little more than three minutes remaining in the game and an upset 7-7 tie facing them, the Lehigh offensive squad took possession of the pigskin on their own 44-yard line. The rain, which had begun to fall at the start of the second half, was coming down much harder now. Visibility was poor and ball-handling treacherous. Nevertheless, after a two-yard gain around end by Joe Moyer, Gloede took to the air and hit O'Brien on the Lafayette 45. At this point, Coach Leckonby sent Jack Conti into the game. The very next play Conti began to circle left end, stopped and tossed a 22-yard pass to Bob Clark who made a beautiful diving catch. Gloede again tried the airplanes, but his pass was over the head of the intended receiver in the end zone. Once again the nod went to sophomore Conti, and again he faded to the left. However, this time Clark and Moyer were both covered so the halfback reversed his field, spotted Tom Gunn alone on the goal line and threw him a perfect strike for the deciding game-shattering score. Trillhaase converted his second extra point of the game and the men from Lehigh walked away with a 14-7 triumph.

Dramatics were the exception rather than the rule in the game, which, for the most part, was a hard-fought defensive contest. The Leopards were forced to take to the air in the second half, since their ground attack was stopped for a minus one yard. Callahan's passing, however, netted 147 yards and the only Lafayette score.

O'Brien hits for yardage.

Who gets it?

A study of expression.

Lehigh drew first blood in the second quarter as George O'Brien passed and ran his way right over the Leopard goal. Walt Trillhaase converted and the Engineers took a 7-0 half-time lead.

The Maroon gridders bounced back in the second half with a barrage of Callahan passes, a touchdown and a near-miss field goal which had the crowd on its feet. Play in the last half was nip-and-tuck until the last minute—that fatal 60 seconds for Lafayette.

After the last gun went off the 1952 season was closed. Lehigh remained first in the East for defensive play against air and ground offense. George O'Brien remained the leading ground gainer on the team with a total of 331 yards. The Lafayette Leopards were defeated for the third straight year.

At the end of any football season nearly everybody thinks of the seniors who have played their last game for the "Dear Old Alma Mater". On this page you can see the way all of them entered the playing field at every home game of their football career at Lehigh. Some of the men shown here were placed on teammates' shoulders and carried off the field after their last game—some were carrying—but they were all carried away from the gridiron in the hearts of Lehigh fans. Hats off to fine sportsmen in a great American Sport—Football.

They played their last in Brown and White.

Hampered by the loss of the two top scorers plus nine other lettermen from last year's Middle Atlantic Championship squad, the 1952 soccer team nevertheless achieved a commendable record. Bill Christian began his first year as the Brown and White's soccer coach, taking over from Billy Sheridan, who piloted the team for the last ten years.

In contrast to last year's championship team, which began the season by dropping an upset victory by Gettysburg, the 1952 booters began the season in red-hot fashion, winning their first four games in succession and thus stretching their overall 1951-1952 victory streak to 10 games.

Ernie Goelz, veteran center forward, booted home both goals as the Engineers opened the season with a 2-1 revenge victory over Gettysburg. In rapid order, the team scored impressive victories over Muhlenberg, Delaware, and Rutgers. These wins were highlighted by the one-two scoring punch of the Kingham brothers, Jim and Jack. Sterling defense was also the watchword in these first four contests, the opponents being limited to one goal per game.

After a 4-1 setback by Haverford, the Engineers quickly snapped back into the win column, shutting out a highly rated Navy team, 2-0. Goalie, George Crosley, sparked his team to victory by making 23 individual saves during the game. Goelz and Wally Oswald shared the scoring honors which handed Navy its second defeat by Lehigh since the Middies have been included on the Engineers' schedule.

The next two games ended in defeat for the Brown and White Booters as they fell prey to the powerful offensive attacks of Swarthmore and Stevens Institute.

The Engineer offense came to life again after they were shut out by Stevens, 2-0, and scored a smashing 7-2 victory over hapless Ursinus. This score was the highest racked up by a Lehigh soccer team in three seasons.

Disaster struck the booters in their final game of the season when Lafayette pulled one out of the fire on a freak play to sink the Engineers, 3-2. The Leopards tied up a 2-0 halftime advantage in the second half, and then, when a Lehigh defensive kick stopped dead in the mud in front of the Engineer goal, a Lafayette substitute booted over the final point.

EWIA—Third Place

Another great season! This is what Lehigh's 1952-53 grapplers have left behind them. In compiling their 8 win-2 loss record, the Engineers displayed throughout the season, without exception, the brand of hard, aggressive wrestling which has always made Lehigh a favorite, win, lose, or draw, on any mat.

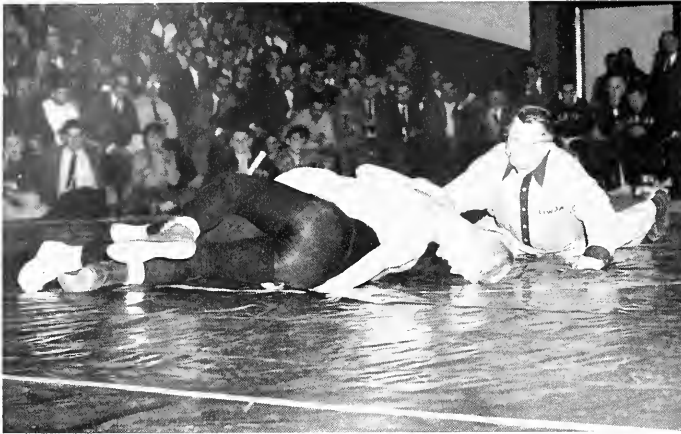

The matmen, who showed consistent strength in the first three classes and in the heavyweight division, breezed through the first four meets with ease as they blotted Cornell, Rutgers, F & M, and Pennsylvania by very convincing scores. However, the next weekend brought disaster to the Engineers' "no defeat" hopes when the powerful Penn Staters struck Lehigh 13-3. Yale fell easy victim to the Brown at Grace Hall, but the stubborn Army Mule kicked up a big surprise in the following meet and Lehigh went down to an inspired West Point squad, 13-6. The last three meets ended with nothing but victory for the Lehigh matmen, as Syracuse, Navy, and Princeton fell victim to the Leemen.

On March 14 and 15, Coach Leeman entered eight men in the EIWA bouts at Princeton. Lehigh placed third in the competition, behind Penn State and Cornell. However, the biggest surprise, so far as Lehigh fans were concerned, was the rise of Alex McCord to take the 123-pound championship. Werner Seel copped the heavyweight championship as was expected, although a badly injured ankle hampered the leviathan's wrestling style.

Jimmy Mahoney, who had trouble all season keeping the weight down to 130 pounds, did not wrestle in the Easterns because he was overweight. Great things were expected from the 130-pounder, since his dual meet record was 7 wins and 0 losses at that weight. His sole loss was to Pete Fikaris, West Point 137-pounder. John Morrison, who wrestled for Mahoney, met Dick Lemyre in the first round and was pinned by the champ. Ken Faust took a third in the 137-pound class as he was upset by Syracuse's Chuck DeBellis. In the 147-pound division, Wilson Kline, who took over for the injured Bill Carlisle late in the regular season, got to the quarter-final round where he was pinned by Don Frey of Penn State. Ed Mahoney came out fourth in the 157-pound class by taking two of the four bouts he wrestled. Jack

Platt was dropped in the first round in an upset decision by John Kousi of Yale. Joe Comly, wrestling in the very strong 177-pound class, copped a fourth place.

There are a few things that occur during the regular wrestling season that fans talk about and remember for a long time. It's hard to forget the great ovation given the very popular and muscular Werner Seel at every match, whether he wrestled or not.—And for good reason. Seel was undefeated in dual-meet competition. The only blemish on his record is a 1-1 draw with Dick Beyer of Syracuse, a bout which the Lehigh Giant finished despite an injured ankle. The fan remembers how the underdog.

Wilson Kline put up a terrific battle against Navy's Ed Brooks and came out on top of a torrid 11-3 victory. And we can't forget the "match" which followed that one—Ed Mahoney's 16-second pin of Navy's Bob Hamilton. Consistent, flashy, spirited, and winning wrestling on the part of Alex McCord, Jim Mahoney, and Ken Faust, thrilled Lehigh fans all season. Platt and Comly, although not as consistent as the lighter boys, turned in stellar performances and a few upsets. Platt gave Joe Gattuso, Navy's strongman, the toughest battle of the season, only to lose a real heart-breaker on a contested 9-3 decision. Joe Comly put the Syracuse meet on ice by scoring a crucial and surprising fall over the New Yorker's 177-pounder. Bill Carlisle, who wrestled under terrific handicap (his arm taped to his side) won the respect and admiration of the fans by his spirit and aggressive attitude.

And thus, the Lehigh wrestling season draws to a close again, leaving a bright past and anticipating an even brighter future. With men like Ed Eichelberger, Dick Whited, Dave Gallagher, etc., on hand to replace veterans Ed Mahoney and Jack Platt, the Lehigh fan can look to the future with confidence and assurance that wrestling at Lehigh will continue to be a great, clean, exciting sport—a sport steeped in the tradition of good sportsmanship and keen competition—a sport whose name is synonymous with the name of Sheridan. Hats off to Billy, Coach Leeman, Coach Coolie, and all of the Lehigh men who have made wrestling nothing but great.

A near fall.

Lehigh's 1952-53 hockey squad's biggest opponent of the year was Ole Man Rain as he wiped out all but three of six scheduled contests. The stickmen, however, managed to get enough cooperation from the weather to play a game with the Baltimore Hockey Club and two with Hill School's varsity to wind up with a 2-1 record.

Coaches Charles Simmons and Wes Sawyer, who played on the Engineers' first ice aggregation, wished they had stayed at home when they took their charges and invaded Baltimore to take-on and eventually lose to the Baltimore Hockey Club, 16-2. Captain Chuck Rogers and Bill Shipley each scored goals for Lehigh in a game which saw a highly experienced Baltimore squad get off to a quick lead by snowing the South Mountain quintet with a barrage of goals.

The stickmen rebounded to drop Hill School 3-0 and 5-1. Again Rogers and Shipley led the way with Bryan Hitchcock sharing the burden. An additional three games were rained out with slushy ice forcing the Big Brown blademen to hang up their skates for the season almost before they got started.

Sophomore Hitchcock was elected captain of the 1953-54 team while Rogers who served two years as captain received the Wiggins Trophy for the team's most valuable player. Assistant Coach Sawyer captained Lehigh's first team back in 1937.

A good portion of the 12-man group are freshmen and if some cold clear weather will provide the battleground, the skaters will be in a good position to go places next year.

Records and scoring marks fell by the courtside during the 1952-53 basketball season as the Engineers fielded the winningest court squad since 1925 and produced the first team with a victory-laden record in the last 15 years. The Brown and Whites wound up the season with a twelve and eight record accumulating more points than ever before, 1362.

Coach Anthony Packer in his third season as mentor made the collegiate sports world once again focus its eyes on South Mountain's ball court, as his aggressive club polished off such highly rated teams as Temple, Mublenberg, Rutgers, and Gettysburg.

For the first time in recent decades a Lehigh quintet gained the confidence of a previously wrestling-conscious campus and climaxed a well-attended season by playing before 1300 fans in the windup tilt against rival Lafayette.

The squad's drawing power came from its consistently strong team play which saw the sharp shooting cagers average 63 points per game with their highest score of 97 against Ursinus setting a new varsity scoring mark for Grace Hall.

Fast break for Lehigh—tough break for Lafayette

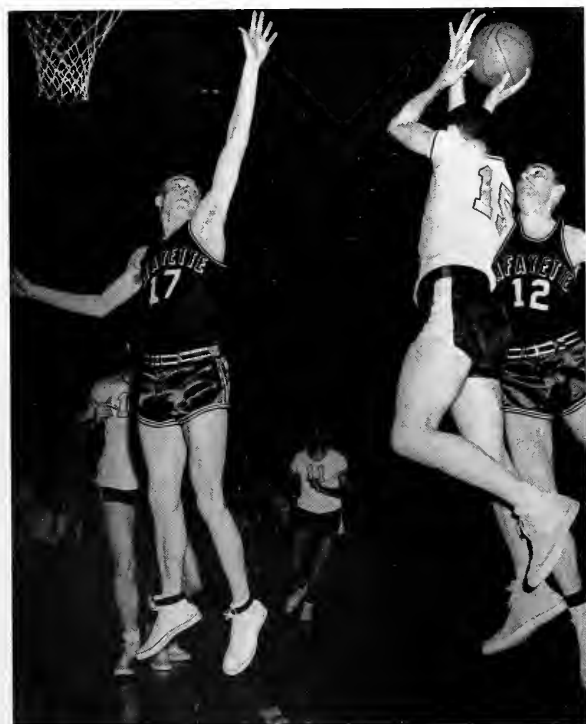

Eddie Cahn

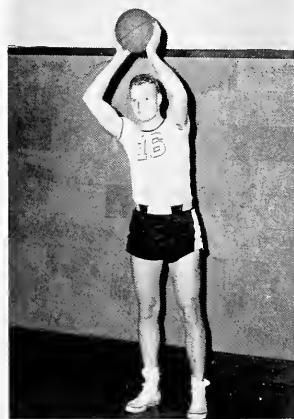

Carrying the brunt of the attack for the Packers were Dick Slaff, a senior, whose 345 points racked up a new season scoring record and sophomore Ed Cahn whose 299 points moved him to within 140 points of Lehigh's all-time college career scoring mark of 699. He, too, eclipsed the single season scoring total by 30.

Rounding out the aggregation's achievements for the year were games in which the Brown and White quintet posted the highest score on a foreign court, 85 against Haverford, the highest score on the home court, 97 against Ursinus, and the highest total points scored in a Lehigh game, 170 with Mublenberg. Some of the shine was rubbed off an otherwise brilliant campaign by losses to Lafayette, 47-45 and 72-61.

Proof of good things to come was evident as Lehigh opened its campaign December 3, against Swarthmore on the Grace Hall court. A tight defense and good shooting predominated from the Engineers as they tore into the Garnet from the opening whistle and waltzed home a 74-50 winner. Joe Workman's 17 markers paced Lehigh. Dick Slaff and Jim Gleckner backed him up with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Cahn outflies the Eagles.

Jim Gleckner

South Mountain's hopes for a perfect season went down the drain as Packers' crew took it on the chin from an up-and-coming Delaware crew. 69-52. Matching the Blue Hens point for point during the first half, the Engineers ran into streaks of poor shooting that bogged them down in the second half. Slaff's 19 points started the fans buzzing.

Hopelessly outclassed Bucknell fell prey to the Brown and White quintet in a contest which saw them set the first of many scoring records. Slaff's 26 tallies snowed his opponents after the Bisons had taken a short-lived first-quarter lead and Lehigh took home the 85-56 win.

Lehigh's next three ball games saw the fur a-flying and the baskets a-swishing as Franklin and Marshall became the Packers first upset triumph. Muhlenberg took some of the glory away from that win by dropping the Engineers, but Coach Packer was presented the Haverford game as a Christmas present before the team broke camp for the Christmas holidays.

Slaff's dead-eye from the foul line in the last 53 seconds nudged the Diplomats after a close, hard-fought contest. 62-61. Although Slaff again racked 18 points it was truly a team victory with everyone giving everything he had.

The Mules up-ended the high sailing Engineers, 76-69, as they hit from all parts of the court to give Lehigh more trouble than they could cope with. The Haverford track meet set a new road scoring record for Lehigh when they breezed home on the long end of a 85-73 score.

Lehigh resumed the court wars after Christmas by taking part in the Hofstra Invitational Tournament. Ed Cahn's electrifying jump shot in the last 15 seconds proved the margin of victory against their first opponent, Alfred. The 58-56 triumph found Cahn chipping in 20 points with Gleckner tying the score in the last 45 seconds to set up Cahn's shot.

Elimination from the tourney came at the hands of host Hofstra when four straight points in the last minute of play gave them the 58-53 contest. Cahn for the second straight game hit for 20.

Beginning the new year on a winning tone, Lehigh ripped favored Rutgers 81-66 with Slaff kicking in 22 tallies. The foul-ridden tilt also was filled with poor shooting during the first half. Gleckner with 17 and Cahn with 16 combined with Slaff to pace the win.

Lehigh takes the rebound

After dropping a sloppily played game to Temple 63-17 and losing a 17-15 heart-breaker to rival Lafayette, the Engineers pulled one of the biggest surprises of the young year by humbling a vaunted Gettysburg aggregation 66-54. In undoubtedly one of the best ball games which Lehigh played all season, the Engineers, led by Captain Dick Witzig's 26 points, outplayed a team which previously had an average of 86.4 points per game.

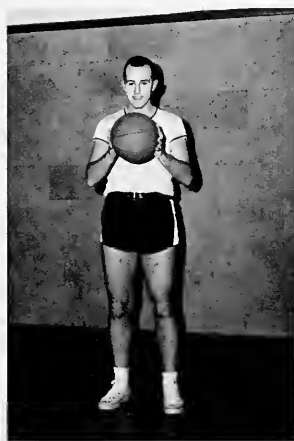

Fresh from mid-year exams, Lehigh got red hot against Ursinus and the 97-52 slaughter chalked another scoring mark in the record books. Win No. 9, against Bucknell on the second time round, resembled the first game between the teams with the Packers again on top 83-62. Slaff and Cahn combined for 41 points.

The next three games turned out to be decided upsets, however, before knocking off Muhlenberg and Temple within three nights, the Engineers themselves suffered an upset loss at the hands of Gettysburg, 57-49. As the first encounter was the best all season, this was the worst for the Engineers.

Cahn with his amazing jump shot and Slaff with his continual driving shots scored 33 and 22 points, respectively, to shine in the Muhlenberg 86-84 squeaker. Lehigh ended a draught of 13 straight losing campaigns on South Mountain by copping their eleventh win, this one against highly rated Temple 68-48, to assure an over 500 percent season.

Lehigh, with NCAA Tournament feelers in the offing, ruined any dreams of taking part in the tourney as they failed to get by Army and then closed the season by losing to Lafayette for the twenty-first straight time in 10 years.

Scoring only three points in the first quarter against the Cadets' 15, the Engineers sank in a hole that even a late-period scoring barrage couldn't pull them out of and Lehigh lost 68-64. Slaff popped in 22 while Cahn led the late rally with 16.

The 72-61 setback at the hands of the Leopards saw Lehigh battle neck and neck until Lafayette broke the game open with repeated fast-break scoring drives in the last three minutes of the game.

Coach Packer will lose only Captain Witzig and high scorer Dick Slaff, however they're pretty fancy pairs of shoes to fill. Jim Gleckner, Ed Cahn, captain-elect for next year, Ed Clear, Arch Schifflin, Jim Picton, Bill Farley, Bob Gilmore, Karl Kirk, and Steve Lekowski will all be around fighting against a good bunch of sophomores for team berths.

Lehigh's 1953 fencing team thrust its way through another very successful season. The fencers, under the guidance of Coach Harry Boutsikaris, attained a 7 win-3 loss record in dual meets plus the coveted Middle Atlantic Championship for which Lehigh is now the permanent holder of the championship cup.

Most outstanding of the thrusters' accomplishments was the upset victory over a very strong and favored Princeton team. Led by Hans Dreher, expert sabre man, Lehigh made a clean sweep of the sabre matches and came from behind to top the Tigers.

After smashing Haverford, Princeton, and Army, the Brown and White clad gentlemen were rudely upset by a surprisingly strong Rutgers team, 15-12. The fencers went on to take the victory over Temple, Drew, and Lafayette, but powerful Pennsylvania squelched the winning streak by a 19-3 count. In the final match of the year, the swordsmen ran Stevens through, 16-11.

Veteran fencers Bob Kievit and Dick Cox won Middle Atlantic Championship titles in the foil and epee events, respectively. Other outstanding fencers, who have been consistent winners for the Lehigh squad are: Hans Dreher, Lamar Betz, Cos Denson, Ken Hergenhan, Bill Laub, Boyd Goldwyn, Jim Gottling and Ted Dolotta.

Lehigh's 1952-53 rifle team, which publicity-wise takes a "back seat" to larger sports such as wrestling and swimming, has been quietly and efficiently compiling the best win-loss record of any Lehigh athletic team.

The R.O.T.C. riflemen, coached by Master Sergeant George Partlow, were the only undefeated varsity athletic organization last year and promise a repeat performance this year. Although the 1952-53 team lost the marksmanship of last year's co-captains, Don Gross and Dick Cornman, through graduation, very capable replacements have been found in the persons of Bruce Spaulding, Jack Giglio, Tex Arnold, Ron Dornau and Bob Hardy.

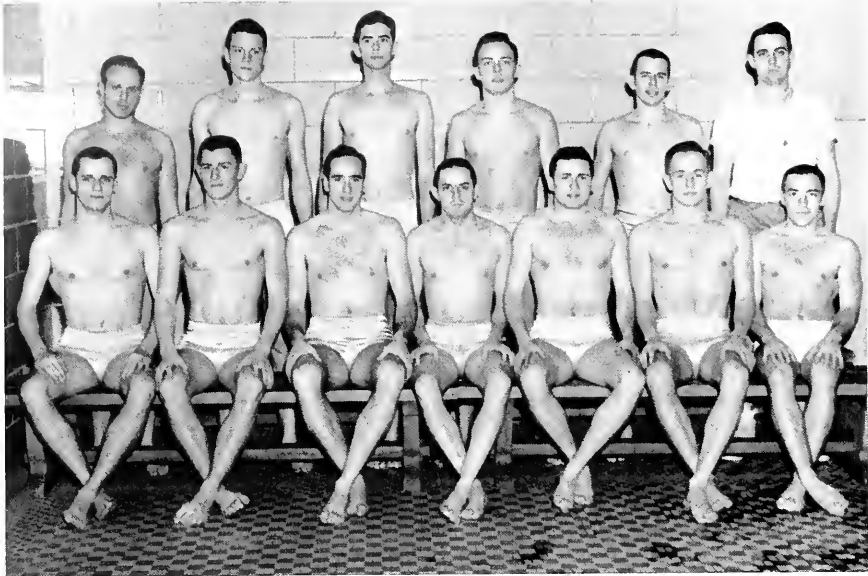

The nimrods found the going tougher than usual in the N.R.A. regionals at the University of Maryland this year where they placed eighth with a total of 1372 against a record of 1442 for the winning Maryland team. Lehigh, however, placed first in R.O.T.C. competition for teams sponsored by the R.O.T.C. and not by athletic departments.

The riflers have won eleven straight meets this year and with only the Princeton meet left in the way of a perfect season, the Engineers have a very good chance to stretch their two-year victory string to 24 straight wins.

 Middle Atlantic Champions
 Easterns—Second Place

The 1952-53 version of the Brown and White Tankmen splashed its way to one of the best team records in Lehigh swimming history. In a season highlighted by record-smashing performances, the mermen took eight of their ten dual meets, and climaxed the season by annexing their fourth straight Middle Atlantic Championship and copping second place in the Easterns.

Coach Bill Christian's charges started their season in anything but championship style, as they were swamped by a strong Navy team, 49-25. From that meet on, however, it was all Lehigh, the swimmers slicing their way through lop-sided victories in the next seven dual meets.

Penn was the first of the Big Brown's victims, as Bob Nick began his record-breaking escapades by lowering the school and pool record to 1:41.0 in the individual medley.

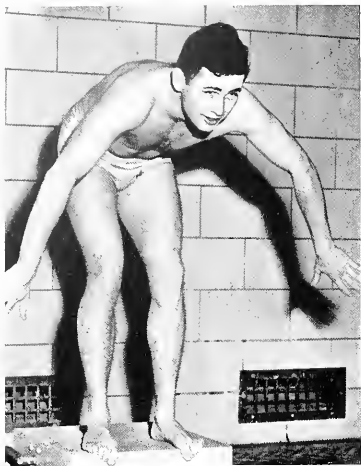

Even Manager Art Goldenberg, got into the swim in the Temple meet, but the able administrator was touched out for show position in the 200-yard backstroke. Lehigh's ace, Lee Peachey, finished fifty yards in front of the field.

The story was a bit different in the Delaware dual meet for the Engineers were forced to take the last event, the 440-yard freestyle relay, in order to nose out a strong Hen team, 48-36. The defeat marked the Hens' first home loss since early in the 1950 campaign.

Don Williams continued his stand-out performances by taking first in the 440 and 220-yard freestyle events, as the Engineers took eight firsts to dunk Swarthmore, 60-24. Ernie Kurmes, first diver, pulled the "Iron Man" stunt by placing second to Williams in the 440, after annexing a first in the low-board diving event.

Lee Peachey stole the spotlight when he lowered the school record in the 200-yard backstroke event to 2:24.6 at the F & M meet. Lehigh took the measure of the Diplomats by a one-sided 67-16 score.

Bob Hartenstine

Don Williams

Perhaps the brightest and most surprising of the Engineers' string of victories was the 60-24 humbling of Rutgers' natators. This marked the first meet Lehigh had won from Rutgers in 32 years. Ringleaders in the drowning were Don Williams and Captain Tom Schaefer, each of whom scored two first places. Williams copped his victories in the distance freestyle events, while Schaefer splashed to glory in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle sprints. Lee Peachey and Bob Nick accounted for two more Lehigh first places in the 200-yard backstroke and 150-yard individual medley relay, respectively.

The service schools proved to be a real jinx to the Engineers during the season. The West Point tankmen stopped Lehigh's winning streak in a very closely contested meet, 36-18. Lee Peachey turned in a fine performance for the Big Brown by unofficially lowering his mark in the 220-yard backstroke to 2:23.4.

The Middle 3 Championship was added to Lehigh's athletic achievements for the first time in the school's history when a weak Lafayette tank team was dunked 64-20. The mermen, swimming their last dual meet of the season, took nine out of ten first places, as Nick and Williams again led the way with double victories in their specialties.

Bob Nick, an outstanding performer throughout the season, went on a record-setting campaign and the Engineers secured their fourth consecutive Middle Atlantic Championship by taking seven out of ten firsts. Nick shattered the Middle Atlantic record in the 150-yard medley relay, and set a new Lehigh 100-yard mark of 54.1, breaking a 15-year-old record.

Successfully climaxing a great season, the Christianmen captured second place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swim. Lehigh gained two individual firsts and a first in the 440-yard freestyle relay which figured heavily in their 77-point total, second only to Pitt's 97.

Dave Fetterman

Bill Corbett

And now with the spectacular records of sports on field, track, court, diamond, and in water closed on another season at Lehigh, stop for a moment and reminisce . . .

Do you remember the Freshman Funnel at home football games?

Do you recall the spirit demonstrated by Lehigh fans at away games?

Does the shouting at pep rallies still ring in your ears?

Did you notice the pep and vigor of fans at home basketball games?

This type of spirit and sportsmanship on the part of fans can and is only developed under the right kind of inspired leadership. Lehigh has had just this type of leadership in the Cheerleading squad. Much credit is due to the following members of the 1952-53 Cheerleaders:

Chuck Snead, Head Cheerleader

George Childs

Bob Blum

Eddie Doroski

George Hopkins

Don Steeber

Jim Lebo

LIVING GROUPS

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Intrafraternity Council was established at Lehigh University in 1909 for the benefit of the fraternities as an integral group. It was long felt before that time that the fraternities should get together to exchange ideas and policies and set certain laws regarding fraternity behavior. The forty-four years of IFC's existence has achieved success beyond the original founders dreams.

The voting power lies with the presidents of the various member fraternities. A senior and junior representative also serves to vote when the presidents do not attend meetings, and to put forth ideas which other fraternities have used with success and which might be used for the benefit of the whole group. Along with the main council IFC has a system of committees which carry out an important function. It is from these committees that a majority of the Administrative plans are carried into action.

Committees on Community Service whose function is to coordinate the fraternities so that they in turn may give freely of their time and men to aid in the various welfare agencies of the community in and around Bethlehem. YMCA, Wiley House, and other Red Feather agencies benefit from this IFC service.

Each Christmas the members of IFC give a party for the children of the Bethlehem Boys' Club. Presents are donated from the different fraternities and the IFC supplies ice cream and cake. As a result of the success of the IFC party many of the fraternities now give their own parties on Christmas for similar groups.

At the termination of Rushing season this year, the IFC sponsors "Greek Weekend." A banquet for the pledges and pledge trainers is held at the Hotel Bethlehem for the purpose of getting the new members-to-be of the fraternities to know each other. Presidents, treasurers, and stewards of the various houses meet at other fraternity houses to discuss problems arising in their particular office, and to exchange ideas. Other college officials and outstanding leaders in the fraternity world attend these discussions. The interchange of information and the banquet usually occur on a Friday. Then, on Saturday a dance is held at Grace Hall featuring a name band. This year IFC had a Dixie land band, and as a special bit of entertainment, Mustard and Cheese, Lehigh's dramatic society, put on a play earlier in the evening.

This year the IFC once again sponsored the Lafayette display competition. Fraternities competed for the outstanding display on the basis of interesting ideas, ingenuity of manner, and offensiveness to the Leopards. Congratulations for first prize went to Beta Theta Pi.

It was a full year for IFC, under its president, Will Davis, who graduated this year. We also want to thank publicly at this time Dr. Aiken, Professor Stout, and Mr. Paul Franz who have served so ably as faculty advisors.

INTERDORMITORY COUNCIL

The structure of the Interdormitory Council is much like that of the federal government. The president presides over the Council, with the help of the Executive Committee. Resolutions are proposed by various members at the monthly meeting, and if passed the entire group sees that they are enforced. Our police court is made up of the members of the Discipline Committee. If, by chance, I. D. C. should overstep its bounds the Dean's Office would restrain them. Dean Leith, our faculty advisor, has always given wise counsel, and has thus kept I. D. C. within bounds.

Realizing that a social program exists in the dormitories I. D. C. has set out to make dormitory life a little more pleasant. The first step was to place the vice president in charge of all social affairs. At the beginning of the Fall semester he, and his committee, organized the "Dorm Date Drag." Over one hundred and fifty girls were imported for this affair, and everyone had a wonderful time. Various dormitories have had parties throughout the year, and another all-dormitory party is planned for the Spring semester.

Another innovation this year is a movie in Lamberton Hall. A movie committee was set up to run shows over weekends, and it is now our hardest-working committee. This movie has proved to be well worthwhile, and it is now an important part of our social program.

At the Fall Houseparty I. D. C. again co-sponsored a Square Dance with Town Council. This, plus the Houseparty Snack, and numerous cocktail parties made this weekend a very enjoyable one for dormitory men.

For the first time in the history of the Campus Chest the dormitories were the top contributors. We can thank Chaplain George Bean for this, since he made an inspiring appeal to I. D. C. before returning to his native Virginia.

This was the second year that I. D. C. adopted a Polish war orphan, Adam Smereka. It seems only fitting that we should help a fellow student, no matter what race, color, or creed.

It has been the policy of I. D. C. to work with other organizations as much as possible. If we can make the other group's work easier then we also make our own job easier. At times it is necessary to oppose others for what we think is right, but when we can work with another group we have achieved unity of purpose.

Whatever I. D. C. has accomplished this year is a result of the faith we have in our organization, and its leaders. Without this faith the Interdormitory Council would be just another organization on campus.

One Man Makes a Touchdown

But 2,800 Students Make an Athletic Program

ON THE FOOTBALL FIELD, physical fitness may make the difference between victory and defeat. In life, too, the man in top physical condition has a priceless advantage. Accordingly, Lehigh University recognizes that as one back or lineman may influence the outcome of a game, so some 2,800 students will influence the world in which they live.

Lehigh's traditional goal of training men physically as well as intellectually requires an athletic program which can meet the varied sports interests and abilities of its entire student body. For the more skilled athlete there are varsity teams in 13 sports, freshman teams in almost all of these, and junior varsity teams in football, wrestling, basketball, swimming, and baseball.

The intramural sports program involves students from dormitory, fraternity, interclass, town, and independent groups. Here 11 regularly established sports offer a chance for the average student to find supervised, competitive exercise. Students not participating in any organized sports must report for regular physical education classes and those with physical limitations are given corrective exercises. All students must swim 75 feet before graduation.

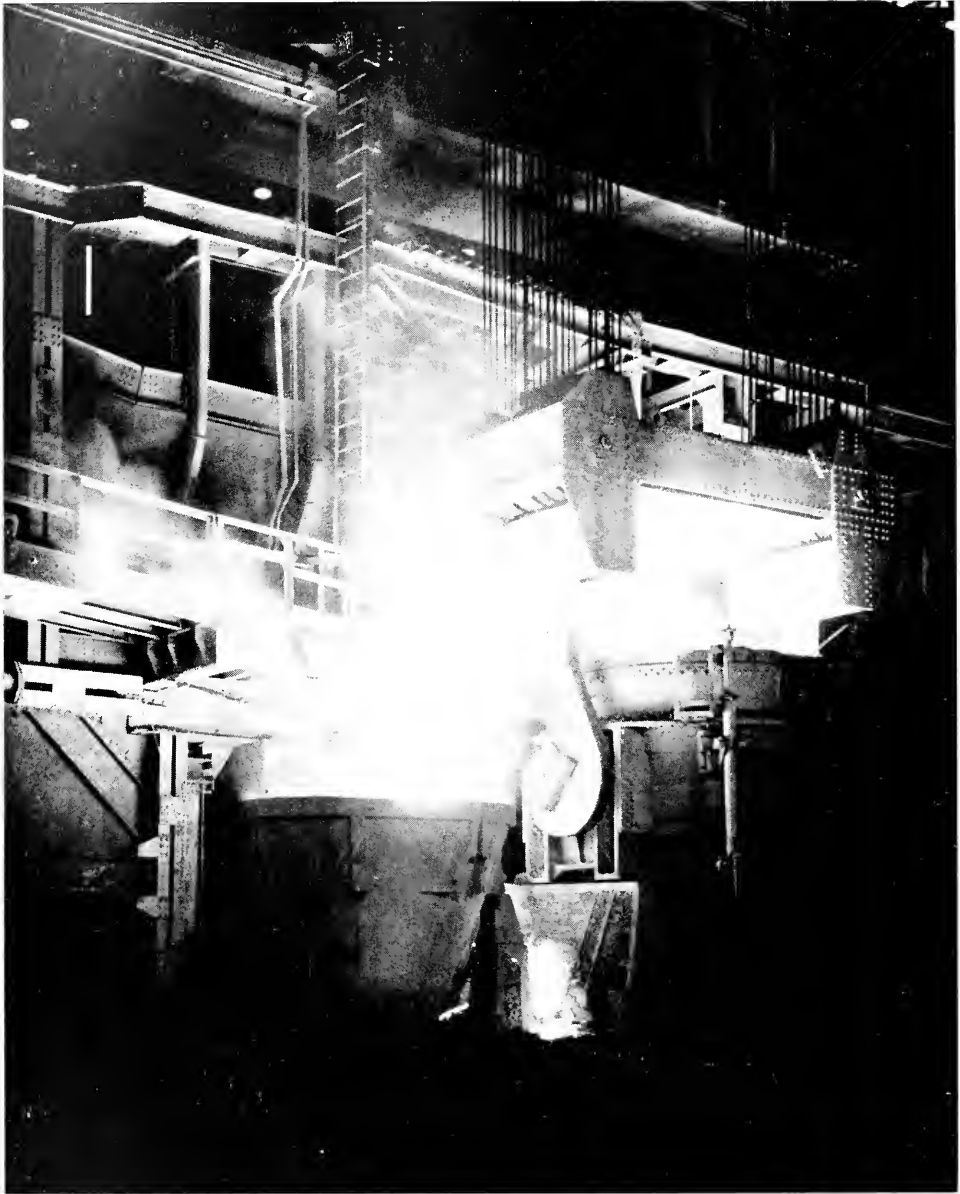

The planning, equipping, and supervising of these combined programs comprise an obligation which Lehigh University gladly accepts, confident that the interests of our country and world will be best served by a well-balanced graduate, equal to the responsibilities of his society.

The Servicing of School Annuals is just as important to us as the printing of them

The many unknown details which "pop" up daily are entirely too much for any one member of the staff to shoulder, so that today many schools in the East are relying on our experienced year book men, men who have helped many staffs. A number of schools were able to continue their publications without lowering their standards due to the efforts of these men in building annuals within their budgets. We not only help you to produce your book at a moderate price, but also plan it so that your book is above the average. We appreciate the opportunity to produce this annual and wish to acknowledge the excellent cooperation received from the members of the staff.

GOOD PRINTING TELLS AND SELLS

A properly planned and printed catalog, folder or broadside is a highly productive "silent salesman" for your business. It tells your story, graphically and convincingly . . . sells your merchandise or service profitably. Let us help you put good printing to work, building your business.

- Our Services include both Letterpress and Offset

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

WE THANK

the Epitome staff who spent many valuable hours to make this yearbook possible:

the Class of 1953 and its officers for their support and cooperation:

the advertisers whose generosity has gained our respect:

and particularly,

MRS. CHARLES J. MORAVEC, who uniquely seems to have the answers to many perplexing problems:

Assistant Professor J. B. McFADDEN and MR. WALTON H. HUTCHINS, our faculty advisors:

MR. CHARLES J. MORAVEC, MR. ROBERT F. HERRICK, and MISS LUCILE L. BARRETT of the Public Relations Office:

MR. AND MRS. RHEUL ROBERTS of the Berthold Studio; MR. ARNOLD CIRMAN and MR. SAUL BAUMAN of the Varden Studios:

MR. CHARLES H. ESSER and MR. JACOB R. ESSER of the Kutztown Publishing Company:

MR. FLOYD R. LEAR of the Industrial Engraving Company:

and finally, the entire Lehigh Family, who has actually provided us with the real incentive to produce this 1953 EPITOME.

THE EDITORS.

Epitome 1953 is bound in artificial leather with lettering embossed in copper. The text is printed in 11 pt. Bodoni Book type with Bodoni Bold Italics and Eden Bold display lines on Satin Proof coated stock.

Senior portraits and group photography were done by the Berthold Studio, Allentown, Pennsylvania, and the Varden Studios, Rochester, New York. Engravings were supplied by the Industrial Engraving Company, Easton, Pa. Covers were produced by the Kingskraft, Kingsport, Tennessee. The book was printed and serviced by the Kutztown Publishing Company, Kutztown, Pennsylvania.
